GENERAL PROFILE

of the

ENTERING CLASS

SEPTEMBER 1994

FORWARD

The following general information on the 1994 entering class has been prepared to supplement admission materials assembled prior to the matriculation of the class. More complete information concerning the Law School as a whole may be obtained from the University of Virginia School of Law publication "Institutional Information Application, 1994-95."

PROFILE OF THE 1994 ENTERING CLASS

The 382 students who entered the first year of law study at the University of Virginia in August 1994 were selected from a total of 4,908 applicants from 628 different colleges and universities, 50 states, District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico and Samoa, and 22 foreign countries. There are 210 Virginia residents and the remaining 172 came from 30 different states, the District of Columbia, and Israel. There were 161 women students and 38 black students.

Although widely different approaches to college grading often serve to render comparative statements about undergraduate records misleading, it is significant that most of the students in this fall's entering class ranked in the upper 20 percent of their graduating class. The median grade-point average for the entering class was 3.6 on a 4.0 scale. The median LSAT performance was 165 (ninety-third percentile). Many of these students also have completed advanced degree work. The average age was 24.

The Law School has continued its policy of giving preferred status to Virginia applicants, but a large number of highly qualified non-Virginians must be turned away for lack of space. A total of 1,189 Virginia residents applied for admission compared with 3,719 out-of-state applicants.
