5 April 1978

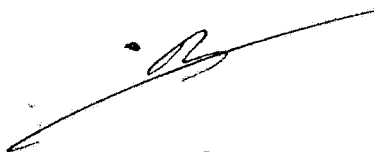

Dear Hardy:

It was good to talk to you, and I look forward to seeing you on the 17th. Should that date in any way prove inconvenient, please let me know, and I'll come up another day.

As for furnishing information about myself, I thought the simplest thing would be to send you a copy of the application form which contains most of the essential factual material and a list of publications. I am also including the few lines that I drafted in support of my application for the seminars which hopefully will breathe a bit of life into the above facts.

See you soon. :

Sincerely,

Ronald P. Sokol
