\textbf{The General Assembly.}

\textit{Reaffirming} the Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Being Subjected to Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, as unanimously adopted in General Assembly resolution 3452 (XXX) of 9 December 1975.

\textit{Recalling} its resolution 31/85 of 13 December 1976, in which it invited the World Health Organization to prepare a draft code of medical ethics relevant to the protection of persons subjected to any form of detention or imprisonment against torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

\textit{Expressing its appreciation} to the Executive Board of the World Health Organization which, at its sixty-third session in January 1979, endorsed the principles set forth in a report entitled "Development of codes of medical ethics" containing, in an annex, a draft body of principles prepared by the Council for International Organizations of Medical Sciences and entitled "Principles of medical ethics relevant to the role of health personnel in the protection of persons against torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment".

\textit{Recalling also} resolution 11 adopted on 5 September 1980 by the Sixth United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders, in which the Congress expressed the hope that the General Assembly would adopt the draft Code, subject to any amendments which might appear to be necessary.\footnote{See A/35/372 and Add 1-3, A/36/140 and Add 1-4.}

73rd plenary meeting 25 November 1981

\textbf{ANNEX}

\textbf{Draft Principles of Medical Ethics relevant to the role of health personnel in the protection of persons against torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment}

1. Prisoners and detainees have the same rights to the protection of physical or mental health and the treatment of disease as those who are not in prison or detained.

2. It is a gross contravention of medical ethics for health personnel, in particular physicians, having clinical responsibility for prisoners or detainees, to engage, actively or passively, in acts which constitute participation in, complicity in, involvement in or attempts to contribute to torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.\footnote{For the purpose of the present Declaration, torture means any act by which severe pain or suffering, whether physical or mental, is intentionally inflicted by, or at the instigation of, a public official or a person exercising substantial authority over a prisoner in order to obtain or Intimidate him or other persons; it does not include pain or suffering arising only from, inherent in or incidental to lawful sanctions to the extent consistent with the Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners. Torture constitutes an aggravated and deliberate form of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.}

3. It is a contravention of medical ethics for health personnel, in particular physicians, to be involved in any relationship with prisoners or detainees that is not a medical relationship in the sense that its purpose is the protection or improvement of the physical or mental health of the prisoner or detainee.

4. It is also a contravention of medical ethics for health personnel, in particular physicians:

   \begin{itemize}
   \item \textit{(a)} to apply their knowledge and skills in order to assist in methods of interrogation;
   \item \textit{(b)} to certify prisoners or detainees fit for any form of punishment that may adversely affect physical or mental health.
   \end{itemize}

5. Participation of health personnel, in particular physicians, in any procedure for restraining prisoners or detainees, is not in conformity with medical ethics unless it is determined by purely medical criteria in a manner which presents no hazard to the health of prisoners or detainees and is necessary for the physical or mental health and safety of the prisoner himself and/or of his fellow prisoners or detainees or of his guardians.

6. There may be no derogation from the foregoing principles on any ground whatsoever, including public emergency.
