FOR ITS ATTENTION, ACTION OR CONSIDERATION

A. Draft resolutions

I. Adverse consequences for the enjoyment of human rights of political, military, economic and other forms of
assistance given to the racist regime of South Africa

The Commission on Human Rights,

Taking note of resolution 1990/3 of 20 August 1990 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling General Assembly resolutions 39/15 of 23 November 1984, 41/95 of 4 December 1986, 43/92 of 8 December 1988 and 45/84 of 14 December 1990,

Recalling also Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/26 of 31 May 1991,

Noting the initiative taken by the President of South Africa on 2 February 1990, promising a new era in South Africa and an end to white domination,

Recommends the following draft resolution to the Economic and Social Council for adoption:

The Economic and Social Council,

Recalling its resolution 1991/26 of 31 May 1991,

Recalling also General Assembly resolutions 39/15 of 23 November 1984,
41/95 of 4 December 1986, 43/92 of 8 December 1988 and 45/84 of 14 December 1990,

1. Expresses its appreciation to Mr. Ahmed Khalifa, the Special Rapporteur, for his updated report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/13 and Add.1);

2. Expresses its thanks to all Governments and organizations which supplied the Special Rapporteur with information;

3. Decides to invite the Special Rapporteur:

(a) To continue to update the list of banks, transnational corporations and other organizations assisting the racist regime of South Africa, giving such details regarding enterprises listed as he may consider necessary and appropriate, including explanations of responses, if any, and to submit the updated report through the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to the Commission on Human Rights;
(b) To use all available material from other United Nations organs, Member States, national liberation movements recognized by the Organization of African Unity, specialized agencies, other intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations and other relevant sources in order to indicate the volume, nature and adverse human consequences of the assistance given to the racist regime of South Africa;

(c) To intensify direct contacts with the United Nations Centre on Transnational Corporations and the Centre against Apartheid with a view to consolidating mutual cooperation in updating his report;

4. Calls upon all Governments:

(a) To cooperate with the Special Rapporteur in making the report even more accurate and informative;

(b) To disseminate the updated report and give its contents the widest possible publicity;

5. Also calls upon all Governments and organizations to maintain sanctions against the regime of South Africa until the total dismantlement of the apartheid system, in conformity with the Declaration on Apartheid and its Destructive Consequences in Southern Africa, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution S-16/1 of 14 December 1989;

6. Invites the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities at its forty-fourth session and the Commission on Human Rights at its forty-eighth session to consider the revised report;

7. Requests the Secretary-General, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 45/84 of 14 December 1990, to make two economists available to the Special Rapporteur to help him develop his analysis and documentation on specific cases of special importance;

8. Also requests the Secretary-General to give the Special Rapporteur all the assistance that he may require in the exercise of his mandate with a view to intensifying direct contacts with the United Nations Centre on Transnational Corporations and the Centre against Apartheid and to consolidating mutual cooperation in updating his report;

9. Further requests the Secretary-General to bring the updated report of the Special Rapporteur to the attention of Governments whose national financial institutions continue to deal with the regime of South Africa and to call upon them to provide the Special Rapporteur with any information or comments they may wish to present on the matter;

10. Requests the Secretary-General to contact the Government of South Africa with a view to enabling the Special Rapporteur to visit South Africa on a special mission for the purposes of the next updating of the present report;
11. Invites the Secretary-General to continue to give the updated report of the Special Rapporteur the widest possible distribution and the publicity as a United Nations publication.

[See chap. II, sect. A, resolution 1991/1 and chap. VI.]

II. The right to a fair trial

The Commission on Human Rights,

Recalling its decision 1990/108 of 7 March 1990 and its resolution 1991/43 of 5 March 1991, in which it endorsed the decision of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to entrust Mr. Stanislav Chernichenko and Mr. William Treat with the preparation of a study on the right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening,

Having examined the brief report on the right to a fair trial prepared by Mr. Chernichenko and Mr. Treat (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/34) and their second report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/29),

Noting Sub-Commission resolution 1991/14 of 28 August 1991,

Welcoming the recommendations made by Mr. Chernichenko and Mr. Treat in section V of their second report,

1. Expresses its appreciation, to the Special Rapporteurs, Mr. Stanislav Chernichenko and Mr. William Treat, for their continued work in preparing the study on the right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening;

2. Endorses the request of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities in its resolution 1991/14 to Mr. Chernichenko and Mr. Treat to continue the preparation of their study;

3. Requests the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteurs with all the assistance they may require in this task;

4. Also requests the Secretary-General to transmit the questionnaire contained in the second report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/29, annex II) to those Governments, specialized agencies and non-governmental organizations which have not yet responded to the previous questionnaire, as well as to associations of lawyers, for their response and comments, and to transmit the replies to the Special Rapporteurs;
5. Requests the Special Rapporteurs to take into account, in preparing their study, the reports of States parties to treaty-monitoring bodies, the consideration of those reports by the bodies concerned and other experience of those bodies relevant to the right to a fair trial;

6. Recommends that the Special Rapporteurs exchange views in regard to the study with officials of the Centre for Social Development and Humanitarian Affairs and the Committee on Crime Prevention and Control;

7. Requests the Special Rapporteurs to submit a third report, based upon their study of the interpretations of international organizations with regard to the right to a fair trial and upon a preliminary analysis of the responses to the revised questionnaire and other relevant information, to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session for its consideration and for submission to the Commission on Human Rights at its forty-ninth session;

8. Looks forward to the preparation by the Special Rapporteurs in the future of a fourth report containing a more complete analysis of the responses to the questionnaires and other relevant information, as well as of a fifth report containing recommendations for strengthening the right to a fair trial;

9. Urges the Special Rapporteurs to continue their study with a view to strengthening the implementation of present fair trial standards and to improving the protection of the right to a fair trial by, for example, making the right to a fair trial or certain aspects of that right non-derogable;

10. Also urges the Special Rapporteurs to consider the desirability of incorporating the basic fair trial guarantees into an international standard, such as a model code, for consideration by the Sub-Commission and the Commission at future sessions;

11. Recommends the following draft decision to the Economic and Social Council for adoption:

The Economic and Social Council, recalling its decision 1991/28 of 31 May 1991 and taking note of Commission on Human Rights resolutions 1991/43 of 5 March 1991 and 1992/... of ... 1992, approves the endorsement by the Commission on Human Rights of the request of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to Mr. Stanislav Chernichenko and Mr. William Treat to continue the preparation of their study on the right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening, as described in Sub-Commission resolution 1991/14 of 28 August 1991, and approves the Commission's request to the Secretary-General to provide the two Special Rapporteurs with all the assistance necessary for the completion of their task.

III. Habeas corpus

The Commission on Human Rights,

Bearing in mind article 9 (4) of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights,

Recalling its resolution 1991/34 of 5 March 1991, in which it invited the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to consider the question of the effectiveness of habeas corpus and similar remedies during states of emergency and to formulate suggestions thereon,

Recalling the advisory opinion of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights on habeas corpus in emergency situations (OC-8/87 of 30 January 1987), according to which habeas corpus is "essential for the protection of the rights and freedoms whose suspension Article 27(2) [of the American Convention on Human Rights] prohibits",

Recalling also the Siracusa Principles on the Limitation and Derogation Provisions in the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, which concluded that the ordinary courts should maintain their jurisdiction, even in a time of public emergency, to adjudicate any complaint that a non-derogable right had been violated.

1. Calls on all States that have not yet done so to establish a procedure such a habeas corpus by which anyone who is deprived of his or her liberty by arrest or detention shall be entitled to institute proceedings before a court, in order that that court may decide without delay on the lawfulness of his or her detention and order his or her release if the detention is found to be unlawful;

2. Also calls on all States to maintain the right to such a procedure at all times and under all circumstances, including during states of emergency.

IV. Human rights and disability

The Commission on Human Rights,

Taking account of resolution 1991/19 of 28 August 1991 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Having considered the final report of the Special Rapporteur on human rights and disability (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/31);
Recommends the following draft resolution to the Economic and Social Council for adoption:

The Economic and Social Council,

Recalling its resolution 1984/26 of 24 May 1984, in which it requested the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to appoint a special rapporteur to undertake a study on human rights, disability, and the progress made to alleviate problems,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Leandro Despouy, for his final report on human rights and disability (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/31);

2. Requests the Secretary-General to take steps to ensure that all the recommendations contained in the report are implemented urgently;

3. Decides to take steps to ensure better coordination among specialized agencies, the human rights bodies of the United Nations and other organs dealing with the human rights of disabled persons;

4. Decides that the final report on human rights and disability should be published by the United Nations in all the official languages and issued in Braille, large print and on cassettes, and given the widest possible circulation.

V. Human rights and youth

The Commission on Human Rights,

Taking note of resolution 1991/20 of 28 August 1991 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recommends the following draft resolution to the Economic and Social Council for adoption:

The Economic and Social Council,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/... of ... and resolution 1991/20 of 28 August 1991 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Dumitru Mazilu, for his progress report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/42);
2. Expresses its thanks to all Governments and non-governmental organizations that supplied the Special Rapporteur with relevant information;

3. Decides to invite the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Dimitru Mazilu, to update his report in the light of the suggestions made at the forty-third session of the Sub-Commission, giving special attention to the problems of underdevelopment, unemployment, the right to conscientious objection to military service and children in prison throughout the world;

4. Invites Mr. Mazilu to consult governmental and non-governmental organizations in order to elaborate further and to complete his work on the draft charter of the rights and freedoms of youth throughout the world, with a view to submitting the final version of the draft to the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities, at its forty-fourth session, for its consideration of follow-up to this draft charter;

5. Requests the Secretary-General to continue to gather and supply to Mr. Mazilu information and data relating to his study and to provide him with all the assistance he may need to complete his report, including consultations at the Centre for Human Rights, in order that he may submit his final report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session.

VI. Protection of minorities

The Commission on Human Rights,

Taking into account resolutions 6 (XXX) of 31 August 1977 and 1991/21 of 28 August 1991 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling that the General Assembly, in its resolution 217 (III) of 10 December 1948, in which it adopted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, considered that the United Nations could not remain indifferent to the fate of minorities,

Recalling also article 27 of the International Convenant on Civil and Political Rights,

Recalling further its resolutions 1990/13 of 23 February 1990, and 1990/45 and 1990/46 of 6 March 1990,

Bearing in mind General Assembly resolution 39/16 of 23 November 1984, in which the Assembly invited the Commission on Human Rights to continue exercising vigilance in identifying actual or emergent situations of racism or racial discrimination, to draw attention to them where discovered and to suggest appropriate remedial measures.
1. Urges the Special Rapporteurs of the Commission on Human Rights and the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities, in carrying out their work, to accord special attention to the specific conditions in which the Roma (gypsy) communities live;

2. Invites States which have Roma communities living within their borders to take, in consultation with those communities, all the necessary legislative, administrative, economic and social measures to ensure the de jure and de facto equality of the members of those communities and to guarantee their protection and security;

3. Emphasizes the need to provide States which request them with the necessary advisory services for that purpose.

VII. Independence and impartiality of the judiciary, jurors and assessors and the independence of lawyers

The Commission on Human Rights,

Convinced that an independent and impartial judiciary and an independent legal profession are essential for the protection of human rights and for ensuring that there is no discrimination in the administration of justice;

Recalling its resolutions 1989/32 of 6 March 1989, in which it requested that the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities consider effective means of monitoring the implementation of the United Nations Basic Principles on the Independence of the Judiciary and the protection of practising lawyers, 1990/33 of 2 March 1990, in which it endorsed Sub-Commission resolution 1989/22 of 31 August 1989 inviting Mr. Louis Joinet to prepare a working paper on means by which the Sub-Commission could monitor the implementation of the Basic Principles, and 1991/39 of 5 March 1991, in which it endorsed the decision of the Sub-Commission in resolution 1990/23 of 30 August 1990 to entrust Mr. Joinet with the preparation of a report on strengthening the independence of the judiciary and the protection of practising lawyers,

2. Endorses the decision of the Sub-Commission to entrust Mr. Louis Joinet with the preparation of a report to bring to the attention of the Sub-Commission information on practices and measures which have served to strengthen or to weaken the independence of the judiciary and the legal profession in accordance with United Nations standards, paying particular attention to those elements set out in paragraph 302 of his report prepared pursuant to Sub-Commission resolution 1990/23;
3. Requests the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteur with all the assistance necessary for the completion of this task;

4. Recommends the following draft decision to the Economic and Social Council for adoption:

   At its ... plenary meeting on ..., the Economic and Social Council, taking note of Commission on Human Rights resolution ... of ..., approved the Commission's endorsement of the decision of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to entrust Mr. Louis Joinet with the preparation of a report on the independence of the judiciary and the legal profession as described in Sub-Commission resolution 1991/35 and approved the Commission's request to the Secretary-General to provide him with the assistance necessary for the completion of his task.

VIII. Fraudulent enrichment of top State officials prejudicial to the public interest

The Commission on Human Rights,

Recalling the resolution on corruption in government adopted by the Eighth United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders (Havana, 27 August-7 September 1990), in which the Congress noted that the problems of corruption in public administration were universal and that, although they had particularly deleterious effects on nations with vulnerable economies, those effects were felt throughout the world, and stated its conviction that corrupt activities of public officials could destroy the potential effectiveness of all types of governmental programmes, hinder development and victimize individuals and groups,

Considering the necessity for determined action to combat the fraudulent or illicit enrichment of top state officials and the transfer abroad of the assets thus diverted, as well as to prevent those practices which undermine the democratic system in countries throughout the world and constitute an obstacle to the economies of the countries concerned,

Considering also that, in some countries, corruption has become systemic,

Noting with anxiety that corruption has further acquired a transnational character, in particular as a result of the illicit arms trade, international drug trafficking and money laundering,

Convinced that the solution of these problems calls not only for resolute political will on the part of national authorities, but also for close international cooperation, notably in the form of mutual legal assistance,
Noting with regret that, although international law does not regard the misappropriation of public funds as a political offence but accords it the character of a common law offence, the law and judicial practice of most States do not allow the extradition of persons guilty of such misappropriation,

Considering that, for many peoples who have been the victims of institutionalized corruption and who, at present, are seeking to strengthen their democratic system, a satisfactory solution to these problems is necessary not only from a moral point of view, but above all in order to ensure reparation of damage caused to their economic interests as a result of the illicit removal of these resources,

Considering that all countries have an obligation to take steps to prevent fraudulently acquired funds from entering their territory,

Convinced that developed countries have a special responsibility to contribute diligently to the restitution to despoiled peoples of the funds which their leaders have extorted from them, with a view to contributing to their economic, social and cultural development,

Recalling its resolution 1991/18 of 1 March 1991, in which it expressed its awareness that, despite progress achieved by the international community with respect to the setting of standards for the realization of economic, social and cultural rights contained in the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the implementation and promotion of those rights and the problems of their realization had not yet received sufficient attention within the framework of the United Nations system,

Recalling further General Assembly resolution 45/155 of 18 December 1990, in which the General Assembly decided, inter alia, that one of the objectives of the 1993 World Conference on Human Rights should be to examine the relationship between development and the enjoyment by everyone of economic, social and cultural rights, as well as of civil and political rights, Decides to study the question of the fraudulent enrichment of top State officials prejudicial to the public interest under item 7 of its agenda concerning the question of the realization in all countries of the economic, social and cultural rights proclaimed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights.

IX. Draft programme of action for the prevention of traffic in persons and the exploitation of the prostitution of others

The Commission on Human Rights,

Having examined the report of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery on its sixteenth session (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/41 and Corr. 1) submitted to the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities at its forty-third session,
Having taken note with deep anxiety of the information contained in this report relating to the worldwide phenomenon of the traffic in persons and the exploitation of the prostitution of others,

Recalling Economic and Social Council resolution 1983/30 of 26 May 1983 entitled "Suppression of the traffic in persons and of the exploitation of the prostitution of others" and subsequent resolutions of the Economic and Social Council on this subject,

Gravely concerned about the consequences of these practices for their victims,

Having examined the various elements of the draft programme of action for the prevention of traffic in persons and the exploitation of the prostitution of others proposed by the Sub-Commission,

1. Endorses the views expressed by the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities in its resolution 1991/37 of 29 August 1991 on the need to launch a concerted programme of action to combat traffic in persons and the exploitation of the prostitution of others;

2. Decides to transmit the draft programme of action for the prevention of traffic in persons and the exploitation of the prostitution of others as contained in the report of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/41, annex I) to Governments, specialized agencies, intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations, for their comments;

3. Requests the Secretary-General to submit to the Commission on Human Rights at its forty-ninth session a report containing a summary of the comments received;

4. Decides to examine, at its forty-ninth session, the draft programme of action and the report of the Secretary-General.

X. Question of the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied by Israel

The Commission on Human Rights,

Guided by the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, The Hague Convention of 18 October 1907 and Annexed Regulations concerning the Laws and Customs of War on Land (Convention No. IV of 1907) and the Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, of 12 August 1949,

Taking note of resolution 1991/38 of 29 August 1991 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,
Recommends the following draft resolution to the Economic and Social Council for adoption:

The Economic and Social Council,

Guided by the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, The Hague Convention of 18 October 1907 and Annexed Regulations concerning the Laws and Customs of War on Land (Convention No. IV of 1907) and the Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, of 12 August 1949,

Considering that the continued building of Israeli settlements in the Territories occupied since 1967 is a serious violation of the laws of armed conflict, in particular the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949 and the Hague Convention No. IV of 1907.

Recalling Security Council resolutions 446 (1979) and 465 (1980) and all other Security Council and General Assembly resolutions concerning the illegality of Israeli settlements in the territories occupied since 1967.

Recalling also that in accordance with article 1 of the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949 States parties to the Convention are under the obligation not only to respect the provisions of the Convention but also to ensure respect for its provisions,

Bearing in mind the repeated resolutions adopted by the Commission on Human Rights and the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities condemning the building of Israeli settlements in the occupied territories,

Bearing in mind Article 96 (2) of the Charter of the United Nations and Article 65 of the Statute of the International Court of Justice,

Requests an advisory opinion from the International Court of Justice at an early date on the following question:

"What are the legal consequences for States arising from the building by Israel of settlements in the territories occupied since 1967, notwithstanding Security Council resolutions 446 (1979) and 465 (1980)?"

(d) The Secretary-General examine the possibility of organizing the sessions of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery for eight working days during the months of April or May, in order to avoid overlapping with meetings of other working groups of the Sub-Commission and the burden this places on the Centre for Human Rights, and in view of the impossibility of representatives of Governments and non-governmental organizations attending simultaneous sessions.

11. Study on problems and causes of discrimination against HIV-infected people or people with AIDS

14. Working group on the methods of work of the Sub-Commission

II. RESOLUTIONS AND DECISIONS ADOPTED BY THE SUB-COMMISSION
   AT ITS FORTY-THIRD SESSION

   A. Resolutions

1991/1. Adverse consequences for the enjoyment of human rights of political, military, economic and other forms of
          assistance given to the racist regime of South Africa

   The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

   Recalling its resolution 1990/3 of 20 August 1990,

   Recalling also General Assembly resolutions 39/15 of 23 November 1984,
   41/95 of 4 December 1986, 43/92 of 8 December 1988 and 45/84 of 14 December 1990,

   Recalling further Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/26 of 31 May 1991,

   1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur,
      Mr. Ahmed Khalifa, for his updated report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/13 and Add.1);

   2. Expresses its thanks to all Governments and organizations which supplied the Special Rapporteur with information;

   3. Recommends the following draft resolution to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption.

          [For the text, see chap. I, sect. A, draft resolution I.]

          21st meeting
          20 August 1991
          [Adopted without a vote. See chap. VI.]

1991/2. Measures to combat racism and racial discrimination and the role of the Sub-Commission

   The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

   Recalling its resolutions 1990/1 and 1990/2 of 20 August 1990,

   Mindful of General Assembly resolution 45/105 of 14 December 1990, in which the Assembly declared once again that all forms of racism and racial discrimination, particularly in their institutionalized form, such as apartheid, or resulting from official doctrines of racial superiority or exclusivity, were among the most serious violations of human rights in the contemporary world and must be combated by all available means,
Considering that despite the efforts thus far of the international community the principle objectives of the decades to combat racism have not been attained, and that millions of human beings continue to be the victims of varied forms of racism, racial discrimination and apartheid,

Concerned that despite these efforts racism and acts of violence resulting therefrom persist and are even increasing in a number of countries in North America and Europe,

Concerned also that in many parts of the world ethnic, cultural, linguistic, religious and other minorities are suffering from discrimination and discriminatory treatment,

Aware of the growing importance and magnitude of the phenomenon of racism and its consequences for migrant workers, as well as the efforts undertaken by the international community to improve the protection of the human rights of migrant workers and their families, and welcoming in that regard the adoption by the General Assembly of the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families (resolution 45/158 of 18 December 1990, annex),

Conscious that the scourges of racism and racial discrimination are continually assuming new forms, requiring a periodic re-examination of the methods used to combat them,

Convinced, however, that racism and racial discrimination, in whatever form, are intensified by, inter alia, conflicts over economic resources, in developed as well as in developing countries, and can best be defeated by a combination of economic, legislative and educational measures,

Reaffirming that all human rights and fundamental freedoms, economic, social and cultural, as well as civil and political, are indivisible and interrelated,

Noting, in this regard, Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/18 of 1 March 1991, in which the Commission requested the Secretary-General to promote coordination between the human rights activities of the United Nations and those of development agencies,

Noting also Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/11 of 22 February 1991 on the implementation of the Programme of Action for the Second Decade to Combat Racism and Racial Discrimination,

Recognizing that the activities of the various organizations of the United Nations system should be closely interrelated in order to promote human rights more effectively,

Peoples and States, held at Geneva from 16 to 20 January 1989 (E/CN.4/1989/22, sects. III and IV), and the conclusions and recommendations of the International Seminar on Cultural Dialogue between the Countries of Origin and the Host Countries of Migrant Workers, held at Athens from 18 to 26 September 1990 (E/CN.4/1990/50),

Convinced of the need for the proclamation by the General Assembly of a third decade to combat racism and racial discrimination, to begin in 1993, as a means of intensifying international efforts in this field, particularly through international economic cooperation,

1. Recommends that the General Assembly take appropriate steps in due course to launch a third decade to combat racism and racial discrimination, to begin in 1993;

2. Emphasizes the obligation of the international community to take urgent measures to eradicate apartheid completely and to combat all other forms of racism and racial discrimination, including those practised against indigenous peoples, migrant workers and other vulnerable groups in society;

3. Confirms the importance, in the struggle against racism and racial discrimination, of a complementarity of economic, social, educational and information measures at the national level, including legislative, administrative and penal measures, and of measures taken at the international level;

4. Recognizes the important role that can be played in this regard by the Sub-Commission, as well as the need for more effective coordination between the Centre for Human Rights and organizations of the United Nations system which undertake operational activities for development;

5. Welcomes the efforts of the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination to fulfil its mandate;

6. Recognizes the importance of activities aimed at directly assisting vulnerable groups to strengthen their participation in national economic, social and political life;

7. Notes with appreciation the holding of a joint meeting of the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination and the Sub-Commission during the forty-third session of the Sub-Commission;

8. Appeals to all Governments to ratify the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 45/158 of 18 December 1990;

9. Urges all Governments to undertake immediate measures and to develop strong policies effectively to combat racism and eliminate discrimination;
10. Takes note with appreciation of the outline of ways and means necessary to increase the effectiveness of United Nations action to combat racism and racial discrimination (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/11) prepared in accordance with the request of the Sub-Commission contained in its resolution 1990/1 of 20 August 1990;

11. Renews its request to the Secretary-General to prepare, on the basis of replies received from Governments, specialized agencies and intergovernmental organizations, as well as from non-governmental organizations, an overview of current trends of racism, discrimination, intolerance and xenophobia affecting the groups referred to in paragraph 2 of the present resolution, as well as of measures taken by Governments against those phenomena and the effects of such measures, and to submit the overview for consideration by the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session;

12. Requests the Secretary-General to submit to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session a report on serious incidents attributable to racism, racial discrimination and xenophobia that take place in any part of the world, including the measures taken by the Governments concerned in response to these incidents;

13. Expresses its deep conviction that a special rapporteur of the Sub-Commission should be appointed to update the study on racial discrimination (E/CN.4/Sub.2/370 and Add.1-6 and Add.6/Corr.1) prepared in 1976 by Mr. Hernán Santa Cruz, in the light of recent new trends of racism, racial discrimination and xenophobia in many countries of the world.

1991/3. Elimination of all forms of intolerance and of discrimination based on religion or belief

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Conscious of the need to enhance and encourage understanding, tolerance and respect in matters relating to freedom of religion and belief,

Recalling that 1991 marks the tenth anniversary of the proclamation by the General Assembly of the Declaration on the Elimination of All Forms of Intolerance and of Discrimination Based on Religion or Belief, which provides an opportunity to reinforce efforts aimed at the effective implementation of the Declaration,

Recalling its resolution 1989/23 of 31 August 1989 wherein it reaffirmed its willingness and interest to make a further contribution to activities which might be considered by the Commission on Human Rights as a further means of strengthening international efforts to promote and protect the right to freedom of thought, conscience, religion and belief,

1. Reaffirms that freedom of thought, conscience, religion and belief is a right guaranteed to all without discrimination;

2. Deems it important that, with a view to building understanding and respect between people of diverse religions or beliefs, particular weight be given to dialogue, communication and education within and among movements, groups, associations and other constituencies based on religion or belief;

3. Recommends, therefore, to the Commission on Human Rights that due and renewed attention be given to:

(a) The organization, within the programme of advisory services, of a seminar on the interrelationship which exists between the enjoyment of the right to freedom of thought, conscience, religion and belief and the other human rights and fundamental freedoms, taking into account, inter alia, the work carried out by the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination and the Human Rights Committee in this field;

(b) The organization, in cooperation with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the United Nations University, interested intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations, as well as academic and research institutions, of a global consultation on the positions and approaches of different religions and beliefs to human rights and fundamental freedoms.

1991/4. Situation in South Africa

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling the Declaration on Apartheid and its Destructive Consequences in Southern Africa, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution S-16/1 of 14 December 1989,

Mindful of General Assembly resolution 33/165 of 20 December 1978 on the status of persons refusing service in military or police forces used to enforce apartheid,
Welcoming the positive developments in South Africa resulting from the policy measures introduced by the Government of South Africa following internal and international pressure,

Welcoming also the accord of 16 August 1991 between the United Nations and the Government of South Africa which opens the way for refugees to return to South Africa and for the release of political prisoners,

Noting in particular the repeal of the pillars of apartheid legislation, such as the Group Areas Act, the Population Registration Act and the Land Acts,

Noting with deep concern that the painful legacies of the Acts and the fundamental basis of apartheid, the undemocratic Constitution, still remain,

Concerned that many political prisoners are still incarcerated, that political trials of some opponents of apartheid still continue and that not all political exiles have been allowed to return,

Gravely concerned at the continued military cooperation between South Africa and some foreign Governments,

Noting also with grave concern the decision by some countries to lift or relax sanctions and other forms of pressure against South Africa when the fundamental question of negotiations and modalities for a non-racial and democratic constitution have not yet been addressed,

Deeply concerned at the recent revelation of the collusion of the Government of South Africa with and its funding of the Inkatha Freedom Movement in order to spread violence in the townships and destabilize other liberation movements,

Conscious of the great courage, perseverance and sacrifices of the people of southern Africa in the face of aggression, occupation and oppression by the Pretoria regime,

Welcoming once again the establishment and launching of the Action for Resisting Invasion, Colonialism and Apartheid Fund (A/41/697-S/18392) at the Eighth Conference of the Heads of State or Government of Non-Aligned Countries,

1. Reaffirms that apartheid is a crime against humanity;

2. Also reaffirms the right of all persons to refuse service in military or police forces when they are used to enforce apartheid;

3. Welcomes the recent introduction of policy measures by the Government of South Africa which have resulted, inter alia, in the repeal of the Group Areas Act, the Population Registration Act and the Land Acts;

4. Strongly condemns the illicit, secret funding by the South African authorities of the Inkatha Freedom Movement as a means of sponsorship of violence in the townships and destabilization of the liberation movements;
5. Reiterates the call contained in the Declaration on Apartheid and its Destructive Consequences in Southern Africa, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution S-16/1 of 14 December 1989, for, inter alia, the unconditional release of all political prisoners and detainees by the Government of South Africa, the removal of all troops from the townships, the repeal of the remaining legislation designed to circumscribe political activity and the cessation of all political trials and executions;

6. Urges all States to continue to provide, both individually and collectively, moral and material assistance to the oppressed people of South Africa;

7. Appeals to the Government of South Africa not to proceed with the execution of the several opponents of apartheid, including the "Uppington Fourteen", who have been on death row for more than three years;

8. Reiterates its call to the opponents of apartheid in South Africa to form a broad united front and to demonstrate unity of purpose and concerted action for the elimination of apartheid and the establishment of a non-racial, democratic South Africa;

9. Strongly urges the international community to maintain sanctions and other forms of international pressure against the Pretoria regime in order to expedite the creation of conditions conducive to an early start of negotiations for a constitutional transfer of power to a democratic, non-racial Government;

10. Affirms that any relaxation of pressure on South Africa at this time would be a violation of the Declaration on Apartheid and its Destructive Consequences in Southern Africa;

11. Strongly urges those Governments that have recently established or are contemplating the establishment of diplomatic relations and economic ties with South Africa to reconsider their decision;

12. Vigorously condemns all collaboration, particularly in the nuclear, military and economic fields, with the Government of South Africa.

1991/5. Situation of human rights in Guatemala

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the Charter of the United Nations and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights,

Recalling its resolution 1990/11 of 30 August 1990,
Taking note of Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/51 of 6 March 1991 and the report (E/CN.4/1991/5 and Add.1) submitted by Mr. Christian Tomuschat, the expert appointed by the Secretary-General as his representative to consider the situation of human rights in Guatemala and to continue assistance to the Government in that field, and the extension of his mandate in conformity with that resolution,

Noting that the new constitutional Government of Guatemala, on taking power on 14 January 1991, committed itself vis-à-vis the people of Guatemala and the international community to guaranteeing the full validity of human rights and fundamental freedoms, and offered to take immediate and urgent measures to that end,

Taking into account the fact that, although the Government of Guatemala has adopted measures to promote respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms and the functioning of democracy, situations characterized by serious violations by groups linked to security forces persist,

Concerned about the serious shortcomings in economic, social and cultural rights, which particularly affect the indigenous population,

Aware that the situation with regard to refugees and displaced persons within the country who are willing to return to their places of origin, the majority of whom are indigenous inhabitants, requires that the Government of Guatemala intensify its efforts to create the conditions that will enable them to return to their places of origin, with full guarantees of their security and respect for the exercise of their human rights,

Aware also of the need to reinforce the investigation and punishment of the persons responsible for human rights violations, which are giving rise to a climate of impunity,

Noting with appreciation the signing by the Government of Guatemala and the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) in April 1991 of the Mexico Agreement establishing the procedure and agenda for negotiations between the two parties to achieve a political solution to the internal armed conflict, and the fact that due respect for human rights and the rights of the indigenous populations are major items on that agenda,

Encouraged by the fact that, under the guidance of the conciliator appointed with the agreement of both parties and with the representative of the Secretary-General of the United Nations as observer, the meetings convened at Cuernavaca and Querétaro have enabled a general agreement to be reached on steps to consolidate functional and participatory democracy in Guatemala,

1. Takes note of the undertaking by the Government of Guatemala to guarantee the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms and to exercise the necessary authority to achieve this;

2. Urges the Government of Guatemala to intensify its efforts to ensure that the human rights and fundamental freedoms of its citizens are fully respected by all its authorities and security forces, to adopt and implement energetic measures to prevent violations of these rights and freedoms, to protect and promote the organizations which safeguard human rights and to investigate violations of human rights;

3. Emphasizes the importance of strengthening the independence of the judicial system as a fundamental condition for effectively protecting human rights and ensuring that the persons responsible for violations are brought to trial and punished, and for complying with national legislation and international agreements;

4. Exhorts the Government of Guatemala to adopt specific measures relating to the situation of the indigenous peoples, taking their proposals and aspirations into account, to enable them fully to enjoy their rights and fundamental freedoms;

5. Urges the Government of Guatemala to initiate a fruitful dialogue with the refugees and displaced persons within the country in order to resolve satisfactorily the problem of their resettlement on Guatemalan territory in conditions of dignity and security;

6. Welcomes the progress in the talks and negotiations which, under the Mexico Agreement, the Government of Guatemala and the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) are holding, through the mediation of the National Conciliator and with the representative of the Secretary-General of the United Nations as observer, and is confident that they will lead to important agreements between the two parties;

7. Recognizes the supreme importance for the strengthening of democracy and the achievement of national reconciliation of the following points of the Querétaro Agreement, signed on 25 July 1991 by the Government of Guatemala and the URNG:

   (a) The pre-eminence of civilian society;

   (b) The development of democratic institutional life;

   (c) The effective functioning of the rule of law;

   (d) The permanent elimination of political repression, electoral fraud, vote-rigging, military disturbances and pressure, and anti-democratic destabilizing activities;

   (e) Unrestricted respect for human rights;

   (f) The subordination of the role of the armed forces to civil authority;

   (g) Recognition and respect for the identity and rights of the indigenous peoples;

   (h) For all Guatemalans, access to and enjoyment of the benefits of national production and natural resources, to be based on principles of social justice;
(i) The effective resettlement of populations which have been uprooted by the internal armed conflict;

8. Urges the parties concerned in the negotiating process to continue the negotiations in an atmosphere of mutual respect, creating the appropriate conditions for the achievement of national reconciliation and a firm and lasting peace which will reflect the legitimate aspirations of the Guatemalan people;

9. Emphasizes that it is a matter of importance that Mr. Christian Tomuschat, in preparing his expert study of the situation in Guatemala, should pay special attention to the situation of the indigenous peoples;

10. Stresses the need to provide assistance in the field of human rights both to the Government of Guatemala and to the Guatemalan non-governmental organizations that require it.

1991/6. Situation in the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied by Israel

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the two International Covenants on Human Rights, in particular the principles of equal rights and self-determination of all peoples,

Mindful of the principles and humanitarian provisions of the four Geneva Conventions of 1949, of the principles and provisions of international law and of the obligations arising from the Regulations concerning the Laws and Customs of War on Land, annexed to The Hague Convention No. IV of 1907,

Noting that, in accordance with article 1 of the Geneva Conventions of 1949, all States parties to the Conventions have undertaken to respect and to ensure respect for the Conventions under all circumstances,

Recalling all the resolutions of the General Assembly and the Commission on Human Rights condemning the practices of the Israeli occupation authorities in the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied by Israel, which affirm the applicability of the Fourth Geneva Convention of 12 August 1949 to these territories,

Taking note of the reports of the Special Committee to Investigate Israeli Practices Affecting the Human Rights of the Palestinian People and Other Arabs of the Occupied Territories submitted to the General Assembly and the relevant reports of the International Labour Organisation, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and the World Health Organization,

Recalling with concern the press releases issued by the International Committee of the Red Cross in Geneva on 13 January 1988 and on 18 and 19 August 1988 with respect to repeated violations by Israel of the Fourth Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, of 12 August 1949 and its continuous refusal to apply the provisions of the Convention in the occupied territories,

Reaffirming its previous resolutions in this respect,

Deeply alarmed at the persistent refusal of Israel to respect the Fourth Geneva Convention and to apply it to the Palestinians in the occupied Palestinian territories, and at the systematic and established violations of human rights by Israel over the past 24 years and its persistence in perpetrating acts of killing, wounding and arresting against the Palestinian people and in the deportation and expulsion of Palestinian citizens,

1. Reaffirms that the Israeli occupation of Palestinian and other Arab territories, including Jerusalem, itself constitutes a gross and systematic violation of human rights and further constitutes aggression under international law;

2. Also reaffirms that the continued perpetration by the Israeli occupation authorities of deliberate killing of Palestinians, including children, breaking the limbs of young men and causing grave harm to their physical integrity, subjecting cities, villages and camps to living conditions designed to strangulate and destroy them by imposing curfews and preventing their provision with food and medical supplies, firing gas bombs into houses, mosques, churches and hospitals, thus causing the death of many people by asphyxia, severely beating pregnant women and throwing gas bombs inside their homes, thereby causing them to miscarry, torturing Palestinian detainees, imposing collective punishment and administrative detention upon thousands of Palestinians, expelling and deporting Palestinians from their homeland, confiscating land and establishing Israeli settlements in the occupied Palestinian territories, bringing Jewish immigrants from several parts of the world and settling them on these territories, thus modifying their demographic character, closing schools and universities, desecrating holy places and demolishing houses, all constitute grave violations of international law and the provisions of the Fourth Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, of 12 August 1949;
3. Further reaffirms that the Fourth Geneva Convention is applicable to the Palestinians and to the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied by Israel, and that the continued disregard and rejection of the provisions of the Convention by Israel constitute gross violations of the principles of international law, and that it is therefore the responsibility of the international community to provide protection for the Palestinian people under Israeli occupation, in accordance with the relevant Security Council resolutions and the provisions of the Fourth Geneva Convention, until the end of the Israeli occupation of the Palestinian and other Arab territories;

4. Calls upon the States parties to the Fourth Geneva Convention to apply article 1 of the Convention, to ensure respect by Israel for the Convention and to secure protection for the Palestinian people under occupation in accordance with articles 9, 10, 11 and 12 of the Convention;

5. Reaffirms once again the right of the Palestinian people to resist the Israeli occupation by all means, in accordance with United Nations resolutions, and affirms that the intifada of the Palestinian people, which began on 8 December 1987, is one such means confirming their determination to liberate their land from the Israeli occupation and to exercise their national rights on their national soil;

6. Also reaffirms the inalienable rights of the Palestinian people to return to their homeland, to self-determination without foreign interference and to establish their independent sovereign State on their national soil, in accordance with resolutions of the General Assembly and of the Commission on Human Rights, and the principle of the right to self-determination of all peoples;

7. Condemns Israel for:

   (a) Its gross violations of the rules of international law and of the Fourth Geneva Convention, of 12 August 1949 through the systematic practices mentioned in the present resolution, and calls upon Israel to desist immediately from those practices and to withdraw from the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied by force, in accordance with the principles of international law and the relevant United Nations resolutions;

   (b) Establishing Israeli settlements in the Palestinian and other occupied Arab territories and calls for them to be dismantled and confirms that all measures taken by Israel with the purpose of annexing these territories or altering the political, cultural, religious or other character of Jerusalem and the Palestinian and other Arab territories occupied since 1967 are illegal, null and void;

   (c) Its continued occupation of the Syrian Golan and its defiance of the relevant United Nations resolutions, in particular Security Council resolution 497 (1981) of 17 December 1981, and reaffirms that the decision by Israel in 1981 to impose its laws, jurisdiction and administration on the occupied Syrian Golan is null and void;
(d) The inhuman treatment and terrorist practices in violation of human rights which the Israeli occupation authorities continue to exercise against Syrian Arab citizens in the occupied Syrian Golan for their refusal to carry Israeli identity cards and in order to force them to carry such cards, practices which constitute a flagrant violation of the Fourth Geneva Convention of 12 August 1949, and requests all States and competent international organizations not to recognize any Israeli laws, jurisdiction or administration in respect of the occupied Syrian territory;

8. Reiterates its support for the convening of an international peace conference on the Middle East, under the auspices of the United Nations, in which all parties to the conflict, including the Palestine Liberation Organization, would participate on an equal footing, and with the participation of the permanent members of the Security Council on the basis of Security Council resolution 242 (1967) of 22 November 1967, as well as of all relevant General Assembly resolutions, in particular those that define and confirm the inalienable rights of the Palestinian people, particularly their right to self-determination, and calls for the withdrawal of the Israeli occupation forces from all occupied Palestinian and other Arab territories, including Jerusalem;

9. Confirms that any attempt to solve the Arab-Israeli conflict outside the framework of the above-mentioned international conference or that is not based on the international legitimacy constituted by the principles of international law that govern armed conflicts among countries, as well as the relevant United Nations resolutions on Palestine and the Middle East, will not contribute to solving the real problem, and will maintain the current conflict that threatens the area with continuous wars;

10. Requests the Secretary-General to provide the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, with an updated list of reports, studies, statistics and other documents relating to the question of Palestine and other occupied Arab territories, with the texts of the most recent relevant United Nations decisions and resolutions and the report of the Special Committee to Investigate Israeli Practices Affecting the Human Rights of the Palestinian People and other Arabs of the Occupied Territories, and with all other information relevant to the implementation of the present resolution.

1991/7. Situation of human rights in Kuwait

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenants on Human Rights,
Recalling General Assembly resolution 45/170 of 18 December 1990 concerning the situation of human rights in occupied Kuwait,

Recalling also Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/67 of 6 March 1991, in which the Commission strongly condemned the Iraqi authorities for their grave human rights violations in occupied Kuwait and decided to appoint a special rapporteur to examine the human rights violations committed in occupied Kuwait, and Economic and Social Council decision 1991/251 of 31 May 1991 approving that decision,

Concerned at allegations relating to specific reports of arbitrary arrests, torture, unfair trials, enforced or involuntary disappearances, deaths in custody and possible extrajudicial executions in Kuwait, as well as deportations and other abuses against non-Kuwaitis since the withdrawal of Iraqi forces,

Expresses its hope that the special rapporteur appointed pursuant to Commission resolution 1991/67 of 6 March 1991 will give due attention to alleged gross violations of human rights currently occurring in Kuwait and will inform the Commission of developments affecting the situation of human rights in Kuwait since the withdrawal of Iraqi forces.

1991/8. Situation in Cambodia

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and all the international instruments relating to human rights,

Recalling Sub-Commission resolution 11 (XXXI) of 15 September 1978, Security Council resolution 668 (1990) of 20 September 1990 and General Assembly resolution 45/3 of 15 October 1990,

Informed by the reports provided by Mr. Abdelwahab Bouhdiba to the Sub-Commission at its thirty-first and thirty-second sessions,

Convinced that, in Cambodia, respect for the fundamental rights of all persons requires concrete and particular measures,

Convinced also that it is the duty of the international community to prevent the recurrence of genocide in Cambodia,
1. Commends the efforts made by Prince Sihanouk on behalf of the Coalition Government of Democratic Kampuchea, and by Prime Minister Hun Sen on behalf of the Government of the State of Cambodia, to come to a rapprochement, and encourages the Governments that assisted in this process to continue to do so;

2.  Welcomes the first results of these efforts: an unlimited cease-fire and a commitment to receive no further foreign military aid;

3. Notes with satisfaction that the Supreme National Council is now functioning so as to embody the independence, the national sovereignty and the unity of Cambodia until free and fair elections can be held;

4. Invites all parties participating in the search for a peaceful settlement and the establishment of a democratic regime, and in particular the five permanent members of the Security Council, to take all necessary preventive measures to avoid conditions that could create for the Cambodian people the risk of new crimes against humanity;

5. Requests that the teaching of human rights to the whole population of Cambodia be organized forthwith, through appropriate channels;

6. Calls upon the Secretary-General to dispatch without delay, to all the provinces of Cambodia and to the refugee camps located in Thailand, a special mission to examine the situation of the population with regard to respect for human rights, to formulate proposals designed to prevent further violations, and to report to the Co-Presidents of the Paris Conference on Cambodia prior to the next meeting of this Conference.

1991/9. Situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Having considered the reports of the Special Representative of the Commission on Human Rights, Mr. Reynaldo Galindo Pohl, on the situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran (A/45/697 and E/CN.4/1991/35), in which he referred to the large number of official executions, the repression prevailing in the country and the gross violations of women's and children's rights,
Noting that Mr. Galindo Pohl was not allowed to visit prisons or to meet prisoners of his choosing,

Deeply concerned at the disregard by the Islamic Republic of Iran of its commitment to allow a delegation of the International Committee of the Red Cross to visit the country, and in particular its prisons, contrary to the strong recommendation of the Special Representative,

Appalled that the number of officially announced executions for the first seven months of 1991 was three times greater than the total for the same period in 1990,

Disturbed at statements made by Iranian judicial officials and at laws advocating the torturing of prisoners and ordinary citizens, and especially at the widespread public flogging of women,

Deeply concerned at the deteriorating human rights situation in the Islamic Republic of Iran since the forty-seventh session of the Commission on Human Rights, in particular the recent arbitrary arrest of thousands of people,

Noting that the situation of the Baha'i community in the Islamic Republic of Iran continues to be a matter of great concern,

Noting also that, in its response to Mr. Galindo Pohl, the Government of the Islamic Republic of Iran stated that he had referred to the assassination of Professor Kazem Rajavi in a manner that tended to allege involvement of the Government and that criminal charges had been pressed in Switzerland against a journalist who had made the same allegation,

Taking note of the verdict of the Geneva Police Tribunal issued on 31 July 1991, which found in favour of the journalist concerned,

1. Expresses its deep concern at the escalating grave violations of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran, in particular of the right to life, the right to freedom from torture and from cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment or punishment, the right to liberty and security of person, the right to a fair trial and the right to freedom of thought, conscience, religion and expression, and calls upon the Commission on Human Rights, at its forty-eighth session, to extend the mandate of the Special Representative and the monitoring of the situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran;

2. Expresses its grave concern at reports of a continuing wave of arrests and executions within the Islamic Republic of Iran and of political assassinations abroad;

3. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Representative for the information contained in his report to the Commission on Human Rights (E/CN.4/1991/35) concerning the assassination of Professor Kazem Rajavi and deplores the apparent direct involvement in the killing of one or more official Iranian services;
4. Requests the Special Representative to include in his next report to the Commission any further information he may have obtained relative to the investigation of this case, taking into account the verdict of the Geneva Police Tribunal of 31 July 1991;

5. Calls upon the Islamic Republic of Iran expeditiously to grant the International Committee of the Red Cross access to the prisons in the country;

6. Requests the Secretary-General to inform the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, of relevant reports by special rapporteurs or bodies in the field of human rights, as well as of steps that are being taken by the General Assembly, the Economic and Social Council and the Commission on Human Rights to prevent violations of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran;

7. Decides to consider the situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran, including the situation of minority groups such as the Baha'i community, at its forty-fourth session.

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the International Bill of Human Rights and other international instruments in the field of human rights,

1. Calls upon the Government of the People's Republic of China fully to respect the fundamental human rights and freedoms of the Tibetan people;

2. Requests the Secretary-General to transmit to the Commission on Human Rights information on the situation in Tibet provided by the Government of China and by other reliable sources.

1991/11. Situation of human rights in El Salvador

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and article 3 common to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 and Additional Protocol II thereto,

Welcoming the fact that, since 4 April 1990, the Government of El Salvador and the Frente Farabundo Martí para la Liberación Nacional have been conducting a negotiating process, under the auspices of the Secretary-General, with the aim of ending the armed conflict by political means as soon as possible, promoting the democratization of the country, guaranteeing unrestricted respect for human rights and reunifying Salvadorian society,

Taking into account that, on 26 July 1990 in San José, Costa Rica, the Government of El Salvador and the Frente Farabundo Martí para la Liberación Nacional adopted a supremely important partial agreement on human rights under which they pledged, inter alia, immediately to take all necessary action and measures to avoid any type of act or practice prejudicial to the life, integrity and freedom of persons, and to identify and punish any persons who continued to perpetrate such acts or practices,

Noting that the parties also agreed, in Mexico City on 27 April 1991, on important reforms to the Constitution in connection with the army, the judicial system, the electoral system and human rights, and further agreed to establish the Truth Commission to investigate serious acts of violence in El Salvador since 1980,

Regretting that the partial agreement on human rights has not been fully implemented and that there has not been substantial progress in the judicial inquiry into and the punishment of those guilty of the murders committed on 16 November 1989 at the Central American University,

1. Welcomes the fact that the Government of El Salvador and the Frente Farabundo Martí para la Liberación Nacional, in their efforts to resolve the current armed conflict, have concluded an agreement for the verification of human rights obligations as an essential condition for guaranteeing a just and lasting peace;

2. Expresses its satisfaction at the establishment, on 26 July 1991, of the United Nations Observer Mission in El Salvador (ONUSAL) with the initial task, unprecedented in the history of the United Nations, of verifying implementation of the agreement on human rights as part of an integrated peace-keeping operation;
3. Calls upon the competent authorities to take the necessary measures to ensure that substantial progress is made in the judicial inquiry into and the punishment of those guilty of the murders committed on 16 November 1989 at the Central American University;

4. Urges the parties immediately to take the necessary action and measures on which they agreed in order to eradicate violations of human rights and to give their fullest support to the United Nations Observer Mission, providing it with all the facilities that it requires to perform its functions, guaranteeing the security of the members of the Mission and complying promptly with recommendations made to it by the Mission;

5. Urges the parties to continue the negotiations until they reach the necessary agreement to end the armed confrontation as quickly as possible and to establish firm bases for promoting the democratization of the country, guaranteeing unrestricted respect for human rights and reunifying Salvadorian society;

6. Expresses its full support for the work of mediation being undertaken by the Secretary-General and his Personal Representative in promoting a negotiated political solution to the Salvadorian conflict;

7. Decides to consider at its forty-fourth session the situation of human rights in El Salvador, taking account of the development of the human rights situation in that country.

[Adopted by secret ballot by 18 votes to 1, with 3 abstentions. See chap. VII.]

1991/12. Forced evictions

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its tasks under Commission on Human Rights resolution 8 (XXIII) of 16 March 1967 regarding the question of violation of human rights,

Considering that every woman, man and child has the right to a secure place to live in peace and dignity,

Concerned that, according to United Nations figures, over 1 billion persons throughout the world are homeless or inadequately housed, and that this number is expected to rise,

Recalling the recognition and the legal foundations of the right to adequate housing in, inter alia, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (art. 25), the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (art. 11) and the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination (art. 5),

Deeply concerned that forced evictions continue to be carried out in many States and in occupied territories, affecting millions of people annually, and that with the exception of a few special cases, the vast majority of these evictions cannot be justified under human rights law or humanitarian law,

Recognizing that the practice of forced eviction involves the involuntary removal of persons, families and groups from their homes and communities, resulting in the destruction of the lives and identities of people throughout the world, as well as increasing homelessness,

Conscious that Governments often seek to disguise the violence that may be associated with forced evictions by using terms such as "cleaning the urban environment", "urban renewal", "overcrowding" and "progress and development",

Disturbed that forced evictions and homelessness intensify social conflict and inequality and almost invariably affect the poorest and the most socially, economically, ecologically and politically disadvantaged and vulnerable sectors of society, while promoting the interests of more powerful social groups,

Disturbed also that discrimination based on race, ethnic origin, nationality, gender, and social, economic and other status is often the actual motive behind forced evictions,

Conscious that misguided development policies can result in mass forced evictions,

Aware that forced evictions can be carried out, sanctioned, demanded, proposed, initiated or tolerated by a number of actors, including, but not limited to, occupation authorities, national Governments, local governments, developers, planners, landlords, property speculators and bilateral and international financial institutions and aid agencies,

Emphasizing that ultimate responsibility for preventing evictions rests with Governments,

Concerned that eviction policies are frequently premeditated, well-planned actions, often supported by legislation,

Encouraged by the increasing attention given to the issue of evictions by the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, notably during its fourth session, at which it was pointed out that housing rights were subject to violation, particularly in the context of evictions,
Also encouraged by recent pronouncements made in the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights during its fifth session, at which, inter alia, evictions in one country were declared to be incompatible with the right to housing,

1. Draws the attention of the Commission on Human Rights to:

(a) The illegal, null and void character of the establishment of settlements in occupied territories;

(b) The fact that the practice of forced eviction constitutes a gross violation of human rights, in particular the right to adequate housing;

(c) The need for immediate measures to be undertaken at all levels aimed at eliminating the practice of forced eviction;

2. Recommends that the Commission on Human Rights encourage Governments to undertake policy and legislative measures aimed at curtailing the practice of forced eviction, including the conferral of legal security of tenure to those currently threatened with forced eviction, based upon effective consultation and negotiation with affected persons or groups;

3. Emphasizes the importance of the provision of immediate, appropriate and sufficient compensation and/or alternative accommodation, consistent with the wishes and needs of persons and communities forcibly or arbitrarily evicted, following mutually satisfactory negotiations with the affected person(s) or group(s);

4. Decides to review the matter of forced eviction as a gross and consistent pattern of human rights violations affecting large numbers of people and peoples at its forty-fourth session.

28th meeting
26 August 1991

[Adopted without a vote. See chap. VII.]

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenants on Human Rights,

Recalling Security Council resolution 688 (1991) of 5 April 1991, in which the Security Council condemned the repression of the Iraqi civilian population in many parts of Iraq, the consequences of which threatened international peace and security, and insisted that the Government of Iraq allow immediate access by international humanitarian organizations to all those in need of assistance in all parts of Iraq,
Taking note of Security Council resolutions 687 (1991) of 3 April 1991, in which it was decided that the prohibitions against the sale or supply to Iraq of products, other than medicine and health supplies, should not apply to foodstuffs or essential civilian supplies, and 706 (1991) of 15 August 1991, whereby a mechanism was established for the purchase of foodstuffs, medicine and materials for essential civilian needs in Iraq,

Recalling also Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/74 of 6 March 1991, as well as its own resolution 1990/13 of 30 August 1990, on the situation of human rights in Iraq,

Deeply concerned for the lives and safety of hundreds of thousands of Kurdish and Shi’ite Muslims fleeing an unprecedented wave of Government persecution which began in March 1991,

Taking note of the report to the Secretary-General dated 15 July 1991 on humanitarian needs in Iraq prepared by the United Nations Inter-Agency Mission led by Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan, Executive Delegate of the Secretary-General (S/22799), which describes the serious nutritional and health problems facing the civilian population of Iraq,

Recalling the provisions of the Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, of 12 August 1949, in particular article 23 thereof,

Stressing the important and continuing role played by the Memorandum of Understanding between the Government of Iraq and the United Nations signed on 18 April 1991 (S/22663 of 31 May 1991),

1. Expresses grave concern at the flagrant and massive violations of human rights committed by the Government of Iraq, including those against the Kurdish and Shi'ite Muslim populations;

2. Urges the Government of Iraq to ensure full respect for human rights;

3. Calls upon the Government of Iraq to allow unhindered access by international organizations to those in need of assistance and to cooperate with the Special Rapporteur appointed pursuant to Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/74 of 6 March 1991.

1991/14. The right to a fair trial

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1989/27 of 1 September 1989, in which it decided to appoint Mr. Stanislav Chernichenko and Mr. William Treat as rapporteurs to prepare a report on existing international standards and norms pertaining to the right to a fair trial,

Recalling also its resolution 1990/18 of 30 August 1990, in which it took note of the brief report prepared by Mr. Chernichenko and Mr. Treat in accordance with its resolution 1989/27 and decided to entrust them with the preparation of a study entitled "The right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening",

1. Expresses its appreciation of the second report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/29), entitled "The right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening", prepared by Mr. Stanislav Chernichenko and Mr. William Treat, in accordance with its resolution 1990/18;

2. Welcomes the recommendations contained in section V of that report;

3. Requests Mr. Chernichenko and Mr. Treat to continue the preparation of their study on the right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening;

4. Recommends the following draft resolution to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

1991/15. Habeas corpus

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/34 of 5 March 1991, in which the Commission invited the Sub-Commission to consider the question of the effectiveness of habeas corpus and similar remedies during states of emergency and to formulate suggestions thereon,

Recalling further the draft declaration on the protection of all persons from enforced or involuntary disappearances (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/32, annex) adopted by the Sub-Commission in its resolution 1990/33 of 31 August 1990 and, in particular, article 9 thereof, which provides that States shall ensure under all circumstances, including emergencies, the right to an effective judicial remedy, including habeas corpus, as a means of determining the whereabouts or the state of health of persons deprived of their liberty and/or identifying the authority ordering or carrying out the deprivation of liberty,

Having considered the draft guidelines for the development of legislation on states of emergency contained in the report of the Special Rapporteur on human rights and states of emergency (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/28, annex I) and in particular section 8 thereof, which provides that "No person deprived of liberty ... shall be denied ... the right to challenge the legality of the deprivation of liberty before a court of law by habeas corpus or other prompt and effective remedy",

Having also considered the recommendations of its Working Group on Detention (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/27),

Recommends the following draft resolution to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

[For the text, see chap. I, sect. A, draft resolution III.]

1991/16. The application of international standards concerning the human rights of detained juveniles

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1989/31 of 1 September 1989 in which, inter alia, it decided to appoint Ms. Mary Concepción Bautista to prepare a report, without financial implications, on the application of international standards concerning the human rights of detained juveniles, in particular the separation of juvenile and adult offenders in penal institutions, detention pending trial, least possible use of institutionalization and the objectives of institutional treatment,

Mindful of General Assembly resolution 45/113 of 14 December 1990, in which it urged all relevant bodies of the United Nations system and all concerned governmental and non-governmental organizations to collaborate with the Secretary-General and to take the necessary measures to ensure a concerted and sustained effort to promote the application of the Rules for the Protection of Juveniles Deprived of their Liberty,
Noting with appreciation the report submitted by the Special Rapporteur pursuant to its resolution 1990/21 of 30 August 1990 (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/24), as well as the note submitted by the Special Rapporteur containing a study prepared by Defence for Children International (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/50),

Recognizing that violations of the basic human rights of detained juveniles are distressingly common in many countries throughout the world,

Concerned that, because of the great vulnerability of juveniles to various forms of abuse, neglect and injustice and the profound and indelible impact of such traumatic experiences on their developing personalities, violations of the human rights of detained juveniles have serious and far-reaching consequences for the juveniles concerned and for society,

1. Urges all Governments that have not yet done so to review their legislation and practices with a view to ensuring compatibility with recently adopted international standards concerning the rights of children and juvenile justice, including the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Administration of Juvenile Justice (The Beijing Rules), the United Nations Guidelines for the Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency (The Riyadh Guidelines), the United Nations Rules for the Protection of Juveniles Deprived of their Liberty and, as appropriate, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, with the active participation of concerned community, professional and human rights organizations;

2. Requests the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Mary Concepcion Bautista, to submit to the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, an updated report containing further information concerning successful efforts to implement international standards, observations relating to practices that are not compatible with relevant international standards, and recommendations concerning measures that should be taken by States and the international community to increase effective recognition and protection of the rights of detained juveniles;

3. Also requests the Special Rapporteur, in the preparation of the updated report, to take into account any additional information and observations she may receive from States, competent intergovernmental bodies and non-governmental organizations;

4. Further requests the Secretary-General to explore the feasibility of organizing a meeting of experts under the auspices of the Centre for Human Rights, the United Nations Children’s Fund and the Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Branch of the Centre for Social Development and Humanitarian Affairs on the application of international standards concerning the human rights of detained juveniles, in order that the results of the meeting may be used by the Special Rapporteur in the preparation of the updated report.

[Adopted without a vote. See chap. XI.]
1991/17. Violations of the human rights of staff members and other persons acting under the authority of the United Nations

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Gravely concerned that a significant number of staff members and other persons acting under the authority of the United Nations have been, over the years, detained, unaccounted for or subjected to other violations of their fundamental rights in contravention of the Charter of the United Nations and other international instruments,

Recalling further the recommendations of the Administrative Committee on Coordination adopted in 1987,

Deploring the persistence of violations of the fundamental rights of staff members and other persons acting under the authority of the United Nations and the continuous threats against their security and independence, in spite of these resolutions,

Conscious that such human rights violations can only have a negative effect on the implementation of the mandates of the United Nations, especially at a time when the Organization is being called upon to undertake greater responsibilities in various parts of the world,

Noting with grave concern that, according to reliable reports, the health of detained officials has in some cases seriously deteriorated during their period of detention,

Preoccupied by the inordinate delays which different organizations of the United Nations system face when trying to exercise fully the right of functional protection of their staff members,

Greatly appreciating the efforts of the Secretary-General to promote the satisfactory resolution of all cases of this kind, and noting that these efforts have already produced results to ensure the security of international civil servants or to settle in a satisfactory way some cases,

Welcoming the recent liberation in Ethiopia of Mr. Tesfamariam Zeggae and Mrs. Ghennet Mebrahtu, staff members of the Economic Commission for Africa and the World Health Organization, respectively,
Noting with regret the limited number of replies received by the Special Rapporteur from Governments and organizations of the United Nations system,

1. Again urges Governments and other entities holding de facto territorial power to respect and to ensure respect for the rights of staff members and others acting under the authority of the United Nations, and their families;

2. Requests the Secretary-General to redouble his efforts to ensure that the human rights and privileges and immunities of the personnel of the United Nations system and their families, as well as of experts and consultants, are fully respected;

3. Urges Governments and other entities holding de facto territorial power to allow physicians to investigate cases in which the health of the personnel of the United Nations system and their families and of experts and consultants being detained is reported to have suffered, and to permit them to receive necessary medical treatment through a physician agreed upon by the United Nations, inasmuch as possible of their own choosing;

4. Also urges Governments and other entities holding de facto territorial power to provide adequate and prompt information concerning the arrest or detention of United Nations staff members and their families in accordance with the Body of Principles for the Protection of All Persons under Any Form of Detention or Imprisonment adopted by the General Assembly in resolution 43/173 of 9 December 1988, and to grant the representative of the competent international organization access to them without delay;

5. Calls upon Governments and other entities detaining personnel of the United Nations system to allow the representative of the competent international organization to attend any hearing concerning them and their families;

6. Appeals once again to member States, to the Secretary-General, and to the heads of secretariat of the specialized agencies, including the International Atomic Energy Agency and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, who have not yet done so, to communicate all information concerning cases of arrest, detention or abduction of officials of the United Nations or the specialized agencies since 1980, in order to enable the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Mary Concepción Bautista, to complete the mission assigned to her;

7. Expresses its appreciation to Ms. Bautista for the work she has done so far and invites her to continue her study in order to submit to the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, a final report which will include practical recommendations for measures to improve on a long-term basis the protection of personnel of the United Nations system and their families, as well as of experts and consultants.

1991/18. Question of human rights and states of emergency

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights resolution 1983/18 of 22 February 1983, in which the Commission requested the Sub-Commission to give further consideration to the study on the implications for human rights of situations known as states of siege or emergency, submitted by Mrs. Nicole Questiaux (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1982/15),

Recalling further that in the same resolution the Commission on Human Rights requested the Sub-Commission to propose measures designed to ensure the respect throughout the world of human rights and fundamental freedoms in situations where states of siege or emergency existed, especially of the rights referred to in article 4, paragraph 2, of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, which prohibits derogation from certain rights even in time of public emergency,

Recalling Economic and Social Council resolution 1985/37 of 30 May 1985 and Sub-Commission resolution 1983/28 of 6 September 1983 concerning the question of human rights and states of emergency,

Recalling that in its resolution 1985/32 of 30 August 1985 it requested the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Leandro Despouy, to draw up and update a list of countries which proclaimed or terminated a state of emergency each year and to prepare an annual report containing reliably attested information on compliance with the rules, national and international, guaranteeing the legality of the introduction of a state of emergency,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/34 of 5 March 1991, in which the Sub-Commission was invited, inter alia, to consider the question of the effectiveness of habeas corpus and similar remedies during states of emergency and to formulate suggestions thereon,

Having noted, at its thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth, fortieth, forty-first, forty-second and forty-third sessions, the importance for the effective enjoyment of human rights of the principles concerning respect for the rules, national and international, guaranteeing the legality of the introduction of a state of emergency,

Noting with interest the usefulness attributed by several speakers to the provision by the Special Rapporteur and the secretariat of technical assistance to States requesting it under the United Nations programme of advisory services in the field of human rights.

Having noted the need to strengthen the observance of all the non-derogable human rights, as well as the legal guarantees enabling a remedy to be sought from the competent authorities,
Having noted also that, in some circumstances, such as situations of war, armed conflict or internal unrest, emergency measures are taken without a state of emergency being officially proclaimed and that such measures have an impact on human rights which warrants thorough study by the Special Rapporteur,

Noting, in addition, the increased cooperation of Governments with the Special Rapporteur and the need to continue to analyse the information received by the Special Rapporteur with the greatest care,

Stressing the importance for the Special Rapporteur to use all reliable information for updating his annual reports, including the information which is available in relevant databases,

1. Expresses its deep appreciation to the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Leandro Despouy, for his fourth annual report and the list of States which, since 1 January 1985, have proclaimed, extended or terminated a state of emergency (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/28) and, in particular, for the draft guidelines for the development of legislation on states of emergency (annex I);

2. Also expresses its appreciation to Governments, competent United Nations bodies, specialized agencies, regional intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations in consultative status with the Economic and Social Council that have submitted information and comments on the question of human rights and states of emergency;

3. Invites Governments, competent United Nations bodies, specialized agencies, regional intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations in consultative status with the Economic and Social Council to provide further information to the Special Rapporteur;

4. Invites Governments to limit the introduction of states of emergency, particularly in the case of internal unrest, exclusively to situations sufficiently serious and exceptional to justify them, in order to avoid making the use of states of emergency commonplace and thus, possibly, perpetuating them;

5. Recognizes the fundamental importance of the existence in each country of specific and effective national legislation enabling such situations to be dealt with in a manner that conforms to international norms, invites Governments that have not yet done so to consider the adoption of internal legislation consistent with the requirements of international instruments concerning states of emergency and requests the Special Rapporteur to continue his work with the aim of submitting to the Sub-Commission draft standard provisions on emergency situations, including situations of internal unrest;

6. Requests the Secretary-General, under the United Nations programme of advisory services in the field of human rights, to give consideration to the technical assistance that might be furnished by the Special Rapporteur or by the secretariat to States requesting it;
7. Invites the Special Rapporteur to continue the work with which he has been entrusted and to submit to the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, the next annual report and list updated on the basis of the information received and to update his present report so that the Commission on Human Rights, at its forty-eighth session, will have before it the most recent and accurate information available;

8. Requests the Special Rapporteur to continue and complete work on the draft guidelines for the development of legislation on states of emergency and, in particular, to examine the question of non-derogable rights;

9. Requests the Secretary-General to transmit the updated report of the Special Rapporteur, as soon as he receives it, to Mr. Louis Joinet and Mr. Rafael Rivas Posada and requests these two experts to study the report with a view to making comments thereon at the forty-fourth session of the Sub-Commission, without prejudice to the right of other members of the Sub-Commission to advance their own comments and suggestions with respect to the said report;

10. Encourages the Special Rapporteur to undertake contacts and consultations with appropriate technical institutions and experts with a view to facilitating the receipt, storage and retrieval of information relating to his mandate;

11. Requests the Secretary-General to give the Special Rapporteur all the assistance he may require in order to enable him to carry out his work successfully and, in particular, to respond in an effective way to the information submitted to him;

12. Decides to examine the updated report and list transmitted by the Special Rapporteur as a matter of priority under agenda item 10 (b), entitled "Question of human rights and states of emergency";

13. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

1991/19. Human rights and disability

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling that article 2 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which provides that everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in the Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status, applies also to disabled persons.

Recalling the International Covenants on Human Rights and the Declaration on Social Progress and Development, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 2542 (XXIV) of 11 December 1969,

Noting that the adoption by the General Assembly of the Declaration on the Rights of Mentally Retarded Persons (resolution 2856 (XXVI) of 20 December 1971) and of the Declaration on the Rights of Disabled Persons (resolution 3447 (XXX) of 9 December 1975) were the beginnings of a new multilateral concern with disability,

Recalling the proclamation by the General Assembly of 1981 as International Year for Disabled Persons (resolution 31/123 of 16 December 1976), the theme of which was later expanded to "Full participation and equality" (resolution 34/154 of 17 December 1979), which led to the adoption by the General Assembly of the World Programme of Action concerning Disabled Persons (resolution 37/52 of 3 December 1982),

Bearing in mind Commission on Human Rights resolution 1984/31 of 12 March 1984 and Economic and Social Council resolution 1984/26 of 24 May 1984, concerning which many valuable comments were made by members of the Sub-Commission, Governments, specialized agencies and non-governmental organizations,

Recalling its resolution 1984/20 of 29 August 1984, in which it decided to appoint Mr. Leandro Despouy as Special Rapporteur to prepare a comprehensive study on human rights and disability,

Having considered the final report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/31) submitted by the Special Rapporteur to the Sub-Commission at its forty-third session,

Noting that the report contains a thorough analysis of the normative content of the human rights of disabled persons, as well as an examination of their implementation,

Expressing its satisfaction at the recommendations and proposals submitted to the Sub-Commission by the Special Rapporteur with a view to encouraging States and intergovernmental organizations to undertake concrete measures to guarantee to the disabled the full enjoyment of their human rights,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Leandro Despouy, for his profound and comprehensive study on human rights and disability and for being open to all comments;

2. Welcomes the recommendations contained in his final report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/31), in particular those relating to the implementation of the human rights of disabled persons;
3. Recommend the following draft resolution to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

[For the text, see chap. I, sect. A, draft resolution IV.]

33rd meeting

28 August 1991

[Adopted by 23 votes to none. See chap. XIII.]

1991/20. Human rights and youth

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1985/12 of 29 August 1985 and Commission on Human Rights resolution 1987/44 of 10 March 1987,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Dumitru Mazilu, for his progress report on human rights and youth (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/42);

2. Expresses also its thanks to all Governments and non-governmental organizations that supplied the Special Rapporteur with relevant information;

3. Recommend the following draft resolution to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

[For the text, see chap. I, sect. A, draft resolution V.]

33rd meeting

28 August 1991

[Adopted without a vote. See chap. XVIII.]

1991/21. Protection of minorities

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles embodied in the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination,

Reaffirming that all Governments have an obligation to promote and protect the human rights of all, without distinction as to race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property or birth,

Recalling its resolution 6 (XXX) of 31 August 1977, in which it appealed to those countries having Roma (gypsies) living within their borders to accord to them, if they had not yet done so, all the rights enjoyed by the rest of the population,
Aware of the fact that, in many countries, various obstacles exist to the full realization by persons belonging to the Roma community of their civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights and that such obstacles constitute discrimination directed specifically against that community, rendering it particularly vulnerable,

Recalling also its resolution 1990/2 of 20 August 1990, in which it expressed deep concern at the signs of an upsurge of racism, with accompanying manifestations of prejudice, discrimination, intolerance and xenophobia in many parts of the world directed against ethnic, national, religious and linguistic minorities, and stated its firm determination to do its utmost to contribute to eradicating these dangerous manifestations,

Concerned at the existence of these manifestations against the Roma community,

Convinced of the need to facilitate the solution, by peaceful and constructive means, of problems in which minorities are involved and, consequently, of the importance of timely warning and action,

Aware of the particularly vulnerable situation of the Roma community,

Recommends to the Commission on Human Rights the following draft resolution for adoption:

[For the text, see chap. I, sect. A, draft resolution VI.]

33rd meeting
28 August 1991
[Adopted without a vote. See chap. XIX.]

1991/22. Possible ways and means of facilitating the peaceful and constructive solution of problems involving minorities

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolutions 1988/36 of 1 September 1988, 1989/44 of 1 September 1989 and 1990/5 of 23 August 1990,

Expressing great concern that throughout the world serious problems are arising from interethnic and intergroup conflicts involving, in particular, minorities,

Convinced that the Sub-Commission can best contribute to preventing large-scale human rights problems in situations involving minorities by studying and proposing positive measures for the protection of minorities and for the peaceful and constructive solution of problems concerning them within the States in which they live,
Having considered the preliminary report submitted by the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Asbjørn Eide, at its forty-third session (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/43),

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur for his informative, concise and useful report;

2. Endorses the guidelines proposed by the Special Rapporteur contained in section I B of that report;

3. Affirms the need to assign high priority and adequate resources to the collection and evaluation of relevant information;

4. Requests the Secretary-General to transmit a reminder with the questionnaire annexed to his progress report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/46) to Governments, specialized agencies, regional intergovernmental organizations and non-governmental organizations to provide their comments, views and relevant information, if they have not yet done so;

5. Also requests the Secretary-General to prepare, with the cooperation of the Special Rapporteur, the technical meeting of experts on minorities provided for in Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/62, with a view to it taking place in 1992;

6. authorizes the Special Rapporteur to visit three States, in different continents, in which minorities problems occur and to communicate directly with Governments and minorities in those States in order to gain first-hand information;

7. Requests the Special Rapporteur, in updating his report, to take into consideration the views expressed and the comments made by members of the Sub-Commission and the replies submitted by Governments, specialized agencies and intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations;

8. Also requests the Special Rapporteur to submit an updated report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session and his final report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fifth session;

9. Requests the Secretary-General to give the Special Rapporteur all the assistance he may require to enable him to carry out his work successfully.

1991/23. Traditional practices affecting the health of women and children

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1989/16 of 31 August 1989, in which it recommended to the Commission on Human Rights: that the mandate of the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Halima Embarek Warzazi, be extended for two years so as to enable her to present a more complete report; that field missions be undertaken by Ms. Warzazi, if possible to two countries where harmful traditional practices are prevalent; that international regional seminars be held on the subject of harmful traditional practices in Africa and Asia; and that the subject of traditional practices be maintained on the agenda of the Sub-Commission for sustained follow-up,

Recalling also Commission on Human Rights decision 1990/109 of 5 March 1990 approving the above recommendations,

Having studied with interest the final report of the Special Rapporteur (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/6), as well as the report of the regional seminar held in Burkina Faso from 29 April to 3 May 1991 (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/48),

Expressing its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur for her valuable report on traditional practices affecting the health of women and children,

Mindful of the growing awareness that the persistence of traditional practices adversely affecting the health of women and children, such as female genital mutilation, preference for male children and nutritional taboos, represents a gross violation of human rights,

Recognizing the important work accomplished in this domain by concerned non-governmental organizations,

Noting that States parties to the Convention on the Rights of the Child are enjoined to take all effective and appropriate measures with a view to abolishing traditional practices prejudicial to the health of children,

Convinced that the work to promote and advance the principles contained in the International Bill of Human Rights and other international human rights instruments cannot succeed without the full enjoyment by women of all the human rights enshrined therein and full respect for those rights,

1. Recommends:

(a) That the subject of harmful traditional practices affecting the health of women and children be maintained on the agenda of the Sub-Commission in so far as they constitute violations of human rights within the meaning of the relevant instruments of the International Bill of Human Rights and many other international conventions, in particular the Convention on the Rights of the Child;
(b) That the mandate of the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Halima Embarek Warzazi, be extended for two years so as to enable her to submit to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fifth session a plan of action for the elimination of harmful traditional practices affecting the health of women and children, and a report on the regional seminar which will take place in Asia;

(c) That the Centre for Human Rights provide a full-time Professional staff member to follow up the question of traditional practices affecting the health of women and children, and to liaise with Governments, United Nations agencies and regional commissions, non-governmental organizations and other concerned institutions, with special emphasis on gathering data from the many organizations currently working to eliminate harmful traditional practices;

(d) That the Centre for Human Rights provide all the assistance that the Special Rapporteur may require in the exercise of the mandate entrusted to her by the present resolution;

2. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

1991/24. Human rights and the environment

Recalling also its resolution 1990/7 of 30 August 1990, in which it entrusted Ms. Ksentini, as Special Rapporteur, with the task of undertaking a study on human rights and the environment,

2. Requests Ms. Ksentini to prepare for the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, a progress report on human rights and the environment, taking into account the comments made in the discussion on her preliminary report at its forty-third session;

6. Requests the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteur with all the assistance that she requires for the preparation of her study, and the necessary assistance to compile and analyse the information and documents collected;

7. Decides to consider the progress report at its forty-fourth session under the agenda item entitled "Review of further developments in fields with which the Sub-Commission has been concerned".

1991/25. The right to restitution, compensation and rehabilitation for victims of gross violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1989/13 of 31 August 1989, in which it decided to entrust Mr. Theo van Boven with the task of undertaking a study concerning the right to restitution, compensation and rehabilitation for victims of gross violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms,

Recalling also Commission on Human Rights resolution 1990/35 of 2 March 1990 and Economic and Social Council resolution 1990/36 of 25 May 1990, authorizing the Sub-Commission to entrust Mr. van Boven with the task of preparing his study,

1991/26. Promoting the realization of the right to adequate housing

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Welcoming the analysis of the situation with respect to the right to adequate housing contained in the progress report prepared by Mr. Danilo Türk, the Special Rapporteur on the realization of economic, social and cultural rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/19),

Welcoming also the increased attention paid to this right by the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights at its 1990 sessions and the recently adopted revised guidelines regarding the form and contents of reports to be submitted by States parties under articles 16 and 17 of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (see E/1991/23), which now much more effectively address the issue of the right to adequate housing,

Deeply concerned that over one billion people do not enjoy their right to adequate housing and that in many States the number of homeless and inadequately housed people is increasing,
Considering that in spite of the numerous international instruments including the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, virtually no analytical work has been carried out on the right to adequate housing by United Nations human rights bodies,

Concerned that both the obligations and the entitlements inherent in the right to adequate housing remain unclear and unspecified in terms of the law,

Considering that the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, at its fourth session, expressly stated that housing rights could be subject to violation, especially in the context of evictions (E/1990/23, para. 285 (i)),

Aware that no State can claim to have fully realized the right to adequate housing for all its inhabitants,

Recognizing that non-governmental and community-based organizations have made a useful contribution in the field of housing rights,

Aware of the many national and local campaigns for housing rights in countries throughout the world,

Convinced that it can play a useful and constructive role in promoting the recognition of the right to adequate housing,

1. Affirms the need for additional human rights activities leading towards the full realization of the right to adequate housing for everyone;

2. Urges all States to pursue effective policies and adopt legislation aimed at ensuring the realization of the right to adequate housing of the entire population, concentrating on those currently homeless or inadequately housed;

3. Requests the United Nations Centre for Human Rights to compile and publish a "Human rights fact sheet" on the right to adequate housing;

4. Entrusts Mr. Rajindar Sachar with producing, without financial implications, a working paper on the right to adequate housing, with a view to determining how best to further both the recognition and the enforcement of this right;

5. Requests Mr. Sachar to examine, in the working paper, the utility of adopting an international declaration or convention on the right to adequate housing, and also to examine the specific contents of this right;
6. Encourages Mr. Sachar to consult and use the widest possible variety of sources in the preparation of this working paper, in particular non-governmental organizations working in the area, including those not currently in consultative status with the Economic and Social Council;

7. Requests Mr. Sachar to submit the working paper to the Sub-Commission, at its forty-fourth session, for its examination of, inter alia, how most effectively to proceed on issues concerning the human right to adequate housing.

35th meeting 29 August 1991
[Adopted without a vote. See chap. IX.]

1991/27. Realization of economic, social and cultural rights

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Mindful that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights provides that all persons are entitled to the realization of the economic, social and cultural rights which are indispensable to their dignity and the free development of their personality,

Convinced that, in accordance with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the Proclamation of Tehran and General Assembly resolution 32/130 of 16 December 1977, equal attention and urgent consideration should be given to the implementation, promotion and protection of civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights,

Concerned that the implementation and promotion of economic, social and cultural rights and the obstacles to their realization have not yet received sufficient attention within the framework of the United Nations system,

Concerned at the negative effects of structural adjustment programmes upon the realization of economic, social and cultural rights,

Recalling Commission on Human Rights, resolution 1991/18 of 1 March 1991 inviting the Special Rapporteur on the realization of economic, social and cultural rights, Mr. Danilo Türk, when preparing a progress report, to give priority to identifying practical strategies to promote for everyone the economic, social and cultural rights contained in the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, paying particular attention to the most vulnerable and disadvantaged,

Recalling also Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/13 of 22 February 1991 inviting Governments to provide the Special Rapporteur with their comments and information concerning the impact of economic adjustment policies on the enjoyment of human rights,
Welcoming the initial contacts made by the Special Rapporteur with international financial institutions, including the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund,

Having examined with appreciation the working paper prepared by the Special Rapporteur on the forthcoming expert seminar on economic and social indicators and their use in monitoring the realization of economic, social and cultural rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/WP.3),

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Danilo Türk, for his second progress report on the realization of economic, social and cultural rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/17), and endorses the preliminary recommendations contained in paragraphs 229-236, in particular concerning the desirability of drafting basic policy guidelines on structural adjustment and economic, social and cultural rights;

2. Urges the international and financial institutions, in particular the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, to take greater account of the adverse impacts of their policies and programmes of structural adjustment on the realization of economic, social and cultural rights;

3. Encourages the United Nations Development Programme, the World Bank and other international programmes and agencies to cooperate with the Centre for Human Rights in devising a consistent approach to the selection and use of indicators in the field of human rights with a view to developing a methodology for assessing the impact of development programmes on the enjoyment of human rights;

4. Notes with appreciation the approval by the Commission on Human Rights in its resolution 1991/18 of 1 March 1991 and the Economic and Social Council in its decision 1991/235 of the convening of a United Nations expert seminar on the use of social and economic indicators in monitoring the realization of economic, social and cultural rights, and recommends that the progress reports and working paper prepared by the Special Rapporteur be included in the documentation for the seminar;

5. Encourages expert members of the Sub-Commission and the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, as well as technical experts from the Department of International Economic and Social Affairs and the Office of the Director-General for Development and International Economic Cooperation, the United Nations Children's Fund, the United Nations Development Programme, the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development, the specialized agencies and the World Bank to participate in the seminar;

6. Recommends also that the Centre for Human Rights and the United Nations Development Programme consider the establishment of an interagency technical coordination group to help plan the seminar, and cooperate in the development of a shared approach to the selection, design and use of human rights indicators with due respect for the international instruments in the field of human rights;

7. Invites the United Nations Statistical Office to collaborate with the Centre for Human Rights in preparing, for the use of the seminar and of the Sub-Commission, a list of statistical indicators currently available in the United Nations system, organized in accordance with the provisions of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, and of recommendations for additional relevant indicators which may feasibly be collected through existing mechanisms;

8. Requests the Secretary-General:

(a) To ensure the widest possible distribution of the progress reports of the Special Rapporteur throughout the United Nations system, especially among programmes and agencies with mandates in the economic, social and cultural fields, including the United Nations Children's Fund, the United Nations Development Programme, the International Labour Organisation, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the World Health Organization, the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund and the Administrative Committee on Coordination;

(b) To prepare a concise note containing an outline of a possible set of basic policy guidelines on structural adjustment, taking into account the relevant parts of the second progress report of the Special Rapporteur;

(c) To provide the Special Rapporteur with all the assistance he may require for the successful completion of his task, and to make available to him all relevant information from sources within the United Nations system;

9. Requests the Special Rapporteur to submit his final report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session;

10. Decides to consider the above-mentioned final report at its forty-fourth session under the agenda item entitled "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights".

1991/28. Human rights dimensions of population transfer, including the implantation of settlers and settlements

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1990/17 of 30 August 1990, in which it decided to consider the human rights dimensions of population transfer, including the
Noting that the implantation of settlers and the removal of people received explicit attention in various country-specific resolutions adopted by the Sub-Commission in 1990 and previously,

Noting with appreciation the working paper submitted by Ms. Christi Ezim Mbonu (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/47) on this subject,

Noting also that population transfer policies have affected and continue to affect numerous countries, peoples and minorities throughout the world,

Considering that the policy and practice of population transfer, including the removal of people and the implantation of settlers, particularly where induced or conducted by government authorities, invariably has serious consequences for the enjoyment or constitutes a serious violation of the human rights of the people removed, the original inhabitants of the countries concerned, as well as the settlers,

Recalling the rights enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights and other instruments, in particular the right to freedom of movement, to choose one's residence and to leave any country and return to one's country, the right to be free from arbitrary interference with one's privacy, family or home, the right to an adequate standard of living, the inherent right to life, the right to liberty and security of person, the right of all peoples freely to determine their political status and freely to pursue their economic, social and cultural development and freely to dispose of their natural wealth and resources,

Recalling also the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination,

Aware that the practice of population transfer is discriminatory in its application and that it inherently leads to widespread and systematic discrimination,

Conscious that population transfer may constitute part of a larger policy towards distinct ethnic, racial or religious groups and may be motivated by strategic, military and political aims of imposing effective control over and assimilation of nations and peoples and at changing the demographic composition of the territories concerned.

Recalling the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, which defines the act of genocide to include "deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part",

policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights",

policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights",

policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights",

policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights",

policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights",

policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights", policy and practice of the implantation of settlers and settlements, at its future sessions under the agenda item "The realization of economic, social and cultural rights",

Disturbed by reports concerning the implantation of settlers and settlements in certain countries, including occupied territories, with the aim of changing the demographic structure and the political, cultural, religious and other characteristics of those countries or with the intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnic, racial or religious group as such,

Recalling the Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War, of 12 August 1949, article 49 of which states, "The Occupying Power shall not deport or transfer parts of its own civilian population into the territory it occupies",

Concerned that the original inhabitants into whose territory alien settlers are being moved or peoples who are being moved may face the threat of genocide,

Noting with deep concern that population transfer may threaten the survival of a distinct people's national or cultural identity,

Noting also with deep concern that this practice is often a significant factor in the origin and deepening of ethnic unrest and conflict, which contribute towards increasing social, economic, political and cultural instability, thereby threatening world peace and security,

Convinced that the movement of people is often achieved either without the free and informed consent of the people being moved or without the consent of the people into whose territory they are being moved,

1. Recognizes that population transfer affects the basic human rights and freedoms of the peoples concerned, including the original inhabitants, the people removed and settlers;

2. Decides to include the question of the human rights dimensions of population transfers, including the implantation of settlers and settlements, in its future work programme with a view to considering further effective action on this matter, taking into account the working paper submitted by Mrs. Christy Ezim Mbonu (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/47) and such other relevant materials as may be provided to the Secretary-General by non-governmental organizations or in the reports of other United Nations bodies.

1991/29. Situation in Somalia

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Concerned at the human rights situation in Somalia resulting from 20 years of gross violations of human rights and the ensuing civil war,
Troubled at the devastation and the human resources constraints, which have been exacerbated by the collapse of the previous Government,

Aware of the Djibouti reconciliation agreement and other efforts to restore stability,

Alarmed at the lack of food and worsening economic conditions,

Deeply concerned that the situation of the refugees and internally displaced persons is compounding the problems,

Mindful of Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/25 of 5 March 1991 inviting all Governments and international organizations to intensify their cooperation and assistance in worldwide efforts to address the serious problems and needs resulting from internal displacement,

Bearing in mind that internal displacement has removed people in Somalia not only from their homes and lands, but from meaningful participation in their Government, and from their right to development,

Noting that peace and security are essential conditions for the enjoyment of human rights,

Determined to assist the people of Somalia in restoring an atmosphere conducive to the promotion of human rights,

1. Stresses the importance of the international community ensuring the provision of urgent humanitarian assistance to the people of Somalia, and of effective international coordination to facilitate equitable distribution;

2. Suggests that the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees ensure that adequate international protection and resources are provided to refugees until their voluntary return is assured;

3. Invites the international community to intensify its cooperation with the Government of Somalia to ensure the protection of internally displaced persons;

4. Suggests that the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization consider ways of establishing a mass educational programme in both technical skills and the liberal arts;

5. Requests the Secretary-General, through the Centre for Human Rights, to offer advisory services and technical assistance to assist in restoring infrastructure and support services.

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1985/22 of 29 August 1985, in which it endorsed the decision of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations to emphasize its standard-setting activities, with the aim of producing a draft declaration on indigenous rights which might be proclaimed by the General Assembly,

Recalling also its resolution 1990/26 of 31 August 1990, in which it expressed its appreciation of the progress made at the eighth session of the Working Group in carrying out its standard-setting mandate and recommended that the Working Group be authorized to meet for 10 working days prior to the forty-third session of the Sub-Commission, with a view to enabling the Working Group to intensify its efforts to complete the draft of the declaration in consultation with interested Governments and organizations of indigenous peoples,

Taking note of Economic and Social Council decision 1991/249 authorizing the Working Group to meet for 10 working days prior to the forty-third session of the Sub-Commission and to be provided with interpretation and documentation in English and Spanish,

Convinced that the Working Group can fulfil its standard-setting task only if it enjoys the greatest possible direct participation of and consultation with interested Governments and organizations and representatives of indigenous peoples,

Emphasizing the decision of the Working Group at its first session that both English and Spanish are indispensable as working languages,

Reiterating the importance of taking further measures to ensure that the activities of the Working Group are better known in every country, in accordance with Commission on Human Rights resolution 1983/23 of 4 March 1983, as well as measures to make information on human rights available to indigenous peoples in their own languages,

Reaffirming its endorsement, contained in its resolution 1990/26, of the working methods adopted by the Working Group at its eighth session, in particular the facilitation of a dialogue between indigenous peoples, the members of the Working Group and Governments on developments in various parts of the world,
Convinced of the urgent need to promote and protect the rights of indigenous peoples, including by means of a continued and comprehensive review of developments in this field, as well as through the development and application of standards,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Working Group on Indigenous Populations, and especially to its Chairman-Rapporteur, Ms. Daes, for the significant and substantive progress made at its ninth session in carrying out its standard-setting mandate, in particular the agreement on a large portion of the text of the draft declaration on the rights of indigenous peoples at its first reading (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/40, annex II A);

2. Expresses its deep satisfaction at the continued and increased constructive participation of representatives of observer Governments, indigenous peoples, specialized agencies and non-governmental organizations in the annual sessions of the Working Group and at the efforts of the Chairman-Rapporteur to encourage and promote further dialogue between Governments and indigenous peoples at the national level;

3. Endorses the plan proposed in the recommendations of the Working Group (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/40, annex I) for the completion of the first and second readings of the text of the draft declaration;

4. Encourages Governments and indigenous peoples to continue to meet at the national and regional levels, with the aim of increasing understanding and agreement on the principles contained in the draft declaration;

5. Welcomes the contributions made by Governments, indigenous peoples and non-governmental organizations to the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Indigenous Populations, which was able to facilitate the participation of a significant number of representatives of indigenous peoples in the ninth session of the Working Group, and appeals for increased financial support for the activities of the Fund;

6. Appeals to Governments, indigenous peoples and non-governmental organizations to consider making contributions also to the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Technical Cooperation in the Field of Human Rights, for the support of training courses and informational activities aimed at preparing indigenous peoples to play a more effective role in the Working Group and in the economic and social development of the countries in which they live;

7. Requests the Secretary-General:

   (a) To transmit the report of the Working Group on its ninth session to Governments, indigenous peoples, and intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations as soon as possible after the present session of the Sub-Commission for specific comments and suggestions for the completion of the first reading of the text and the beginning of the second reading at the tenth session of the Working Group;
(b) To ensure that all meetings of the Working Group at its tenth and future sessions are provided with interpretation and documentation in both English and Spanish;

(c) To organize a regional training course in Latin America on the United Nations, human rights and indigenous peoples, as a matter of the highest priority and in accordance with paragraph 8 (d) of both Sub-Commission resolution 1990/26 of 31 August 1990 and Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/59 of 6 March 1991;

(d) To give all necessary assistance to the Working Group in discharging its tasks, including more effective dissemination of information about its activities to indigenous peoples in every country in order to encourage their wider participation;

8. Recommends that the Chairman-Rapporteur of the Working Group, Ms. Erica-Irene Daes, be entrusted with the task of further elaborating the paragraphs of the draft declaration which were agreed upon by the members of the Working Group at first reading, taking into account the relevant written observations received pursuant to paragraph 7 (a) of the present resolution, to facilitate further progress on standard-setting at the tenth session of the Working Group, and requests the Secretary-General to provide her with all the assistance she may require for the completion of this task;

9. Welcomes the publication of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in the Mikmaq language by the Department of Public Information of the United Nations Secretariat, and expresses the sincere hope that the Department will work towards establishing a comprehensive programme of translating basic international texts into major indigenous languages;

10. Recommends that the reports of the Working Group be made available to the Commission on Human Rights and to the Economic and Social Council at each of their sessions;

11. Authorizes the Chairman-Rapporteur of the Working Group to attend the Conference on the Human Dimension in Moscow in September 1991, in order to draw the attention of States participating in the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe to the activities of the Working Group, and in particular to its recommendation that they consider the issue of the recognition and protection of the rights of indigenous peoples, and recommends that the Secretary-General draw the present resolution to the attention of the Conference secretariat;

12. Welcomes the initiative taken by the Cree Regional Youth Council (of Quebec) in organizing the First World Indigenous Youth Conference, to be held at Quebec City, Canada, in July 1992. Encourages States, as well as indigenous peoples, to give the conference their full support and cooperation and requests the organizers to make the report of the conference available to the Working Group at its tenth session;
13. Decides to examine these issues at its forty-fourth session as a matter of high priority, under the item entitled "Discrimination against indigenous peoples";

14. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

[Adopted without a vote. See chap. XVI.]

1991/31. Economic and social relations between indigenous peoples and States

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Reaffirming its resolution 1990/27 of 31 August 1990,

Mindful of the provisions of Convention No. 169 of the International Labour Organisation, concerning indigenous and tribal peoples in independent countries, of 27 June 1989, in particular with regard to the right of indigenous peoples to control their own economic, social and cultural development,

Convinced that a principal means of strengthening indigenous peoples' enjoyment of fundamental rights, in accordance with the Declaration on the Right to Development, is to increase their direct control of the planning, implementation and benefits of all forms of development which may affect them,

Noting that, while the technical assistance provided by United Nations bodies and specialized agencies frequently affects indigenous peoples, no common guidelines exist for ensuring that such assistance is provided in a manner compatible with the rights, participation and needs of indigenous peoples,

Mindful of General Assembly resolution 45/97 of 14 December 1990, urging the United Nations regional commissions to convene meetings with grass-roots organizations to consider ways of measuring progress in the implementation of the right to development,

Conscious that indigenous peoples occupy and use some of the world's most fragile ecosystems, depend upon these ecosystems for their survival and development, and possess irreplaceable knowledge of them,
Welcoming decision 2/7 of 5 April 1991 of the Preparatory Committee for the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, which recognizes the important role of indigenous peoples' traditional knowledge and resource-management practices in achieving sustainable development,

Welcoming also the decision by the Home Rule Government of Greenland to host a United Nations meeting of experts on self-government for indigenous peoples at Nuuk, Greenland, in September 1991,

2. Encourages organizations of indigenous peoples to participate actively in this continuing study, which would be greatly enhanced by the allocation of budgetary or extrabudgetary resources for the provision of technical assistance and training to indigenous peoples;

3. Requests the World Intellectual Property Organization to assist the Working Group on Indigenous Populations in formulating recommendations for the effective protection of the intellectual property of indigenous peoples;

4. Expresses its appreciation to the Chairman and States participating in the Preparatory Committee for the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development for inviting the Chairman-Rapporteur of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations, Ms. Erica-Irene Daes, to address the Preparatory Committee at its second session, and recommends that Ms. Daes present additional relevant information to the Preparatory Committee at its third and fourth sessions, if invited, and to the Conference itself;

5. Requests the Secretary-General:

(a) To prepare a concise report on the extent to which indigenous peoples can utilize existing international standards and mechanisms for the protection of their intellectual property, drawing attention to any gaps or obstacles and to possible measures for addressing them;

(c) To ensure that organizations of indigenous peoples are represented at all United Nations seminars and technical meetings which deal with the implementation of the Declaration on the Right to Development or with the realization of human rights through the development process;

(d) To bring the present resolution to the attention of the Secretary-General of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, and to the administrative head of each United Nations operational body and specialized agency, and to submit a report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session on the measures taken to implement the present resolution, and on the results achieved;

6. Appeals to Governments in Latin America and Asia to consider offering to host the technical conference on practical experience in the realization of sustainable and environmentally sound self-development by indigenous peoples, referred to in paragraph 5 (b) above, to help strengthen the participation of indigenous peoples and experts from these regions in the work of the United Nations in the field of indigenous peoples' rights;

7. Encourages the United Nations regional commissions to organize technical meetings with indigenous peoples' organizations in 1992, within the context of the realization of the right to development;

8. Recommends the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

1991/32. Ownership and control of the cultural property of indigenous peoples

The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Recalling its resolution 1990/25 of 31 August 1990 in which it entrusted Ms. Erica-Irene Daes with the task of preparing a working paper on the question of the ownership and control of the cultural property of indigenous peoples for submission to the Working Group on Indigenous Populations at its ninth session,

Reiterating its concern at the extensive international traffic in indigenous cultural property, which undermines the ability of indigenous peoples to pursue their own political, economic, social, religious and cultural development in conditions of freedom and dignity,

Appreciating the efforts of organizations such as the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization to facilitate the return of cultural property to the countries of origin,

Aware nevertheless that the intergovernmental mechanisms established by UNESCO are not accessible to indigenous peoples,

Conscious also that indigenous peoples experience difficulty utilizing national judicial and administrative mechanisms for the recovery of their cultural property because their own laws defining cultural property and forbidding its alienation are not documented or respected,

Reaffirming the important catalytic role to be played by the Working Group on Indigenous Populations within the United Nations system in finding ways for all bodies and specialized agencies to contribute to the promotion and protection of the rights of indigenous peoples within their respective areas of competence,

Mindful that 1993 has been proclaimed International Year for the World's Indigenous People,

1. Expresses its appreciation to Ms. Erica-Irene Daes for her working paper (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/34) on the ownership and control of the cultural property of indigenous peoples;

2. Decides to entrust Ms. Daes with the further task of preparing, for submission at its forty-fifth session in 1993, a study of measures which should be taken by the international community to strengthen respect for the cultural property of indigenous peoples;

3. Requests the Special Rapporteur, Ms. Daes, to include in her study a comprehensive analysis of the laws and traditions of indigenous peoples with respect to the definition, ownership and control of cultural property, to be prepared in cooperation with indigenous peoples, and authorizes her to collect information and relevant data from Governments, specialized agencies, intergovernmental organizations and indigenous organizations and communities;

4. Invites the Special Rapporteur to pursue this task in cooperation, as far as possible, with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization;
5. Requests the Secretary-General to give the Special Rapporteur all the assistance she may require to complete these tasks successfully;

6. Recommends to the Commission on Human Rights the following decision for adoption:

7. Requests the Secretary-General:

(a) To give preference to indigenous people in obtaining services and employing artists, consultants and other professionals in connection with the International Year;

(b) To take the present resolution into account in preparing the draft programme of activities for the International Year, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 45/164;
(c) To bring the present resolution to the attention of the General Assembly during its forty-sixth session;

8. Recommends that the Preparatory Committee for the World Conference on Human Rights consider including among its proposals to the General Assembly the preparation of a case study on the struggle of indigenous peoples to claim and exercise their rights, which could be presented by indigenous peoples themselves as an important input to the Conference.

"The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Guided by the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenants on Human Rights, and the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 and the Additional Protocols thereto,

Recalling General Assembly resolutions 42/99 of 7 December 1987 and 43/111 of 8 December 1988, reaffirming that all people have an inherent right to life,

Mindful that the General Assembly, in its resolution 43/74 A of 7 December 1988, called upon all States to be guided by the need to curb the spread of chemical weapons pending the conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of the development, production, stockpiling and use of all chemical weapons and on their destruction, and requested the Secretary-General to investigate reports of the use of such weapons,

Mindful also that the General Assembly, in its resolution 45/57 A of 4 December 1990, renewed its call to all States to observe strictly the principles and objectives of the 1925 Protocol for the Prohibition of the Use in War of Asphyxiating, Poisonous or Other Gases and of Bacteriological Methods of Warfare and to abide by the commitments of 1 September 1989,

Concerned at the alleged use of such weapons against civilian populations, resulting in death, misery, and disability,

Concerned, in particular, at the alleged supply of key precursors for, and the transfer of expertise in, the manufacture of such weapons, of such weapons upon human health and the environment,

Convinced that the production, sale and use of such weapons is incompatible with the provisions of the Convention against Torture and
Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment,

Believing that continued efforts must be undertaken to sensitize public opinion to the inhuman and indiscriminate effects of the production and commercialization of chemical weapons, and to the need for their complete elimination,

Bearing in mind the current negotiations in the Conference on Disarmament on the complete, effective and verifiable prohibition of the development, production, stockpiling and use of all chemical weapons and on their destruction,

1. Renews its call to all States to observe strictly the principles and objectives of the 1925 Protocol for the Prohibition of the Use in War of Asphyxiating, Poisonous or Other Gases and of Bacteriological Methods of Warfare, and condemns all actions that violate this obligation;

2. Calls on all States which have not yet done so to consider on a priority basis acceding to the said Protocol;

3. Urges all States to be guided in their national policies by the need to curb the production and the spread of chemical weapons and to cut off the supply of chemical weapons, agents or key precursors to any State and in particular to States proven to have used chemical weapons;

   the use of chemical weapons, and on the danger they represent to life,

   (c) To present a report on the information gathered to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session, together with any recommendations and views which he may have received on effective ways and means of eliminating chemical weapons;

5. Decides to give further consideration to this matter at its forty-fourth session, on the basis of any additional information which may be contained in reports of the Secretary-General to the Sub-Commission or to other United Nations bodies, or which may be submitted to the Sub-Commission by Governments or non-governmental organizations."

53. Ms. Warzazi revised the draft resolution by inserting in operative paragraph 4(b) the words "fuel, airbombs and napalm" after the words "the use of chemical weapons".

Concerned by reports about the recent tragic acts of violence involving violations of human rights, including the right to life, to freedom of information and to take part in the conduct of public affairs, which have occurred in Vilnius, Lithuania and Riga, Latvia as well as at customs posts in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania,

Aware that the Chairman of the Commission on Human Rights stated, at a meeting of the Commission on 26 February 1991, that there were unresolved problems in the field of human rights in Lithuania and Latvia and urged the authorities concerned to ensure that human rights and fundamental freedoms were fully enjoyed, without discrimination, in Latvia and Lithuania,

Noting with appreciation the decision announced by the Government of the Soviet Union to conduct a thorough investigation of these events and to bring to justice those responsible for violations of the rights and freedoms of individuals,"

"The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Having taken cognizance with interest of the report of the Secretary-General entitled 'Human rights and extreme poverty' (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/38 and Add.1), compiled on the basis of comments supplied by, inter alia, Governments, specialized agencies and United Nations bodies,

Having examined with interest the report by Mr. Eduardo Suescún Monroy entitled 'Method and plan of work for the study on human rights and extreme poverty' (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/18),

Welcoming the method outlined by Mr. Suescún Monroy, consisting in relying chiefly on contributions by the poorest themselves, gathered and forwarded by the people working alongside them, relating to:

(a) The problems encountered by those living in extreme poverty in the enjoyment and exercise of their rights and fundamental freedoms,

(b) Efforts by the poorest themselves and the people and non-governmental organizations working with them to exercise those rights and participate freely and responsibly in the development of the societies in which they live,

(c) Indications of ways whereby the poorest can convey their experience and ideas and become partners in the quest for well-being for all,

(d) Conditions, means and methods for combating poverty locally, nationally and internationally, among other matters,

1. Decides to entrust to Mr. Eduardo Suescún Monroy with the compilation of the study on human rights and extreme poverty called for in Commission on Human Rights resolutions 1990/15 and 1991/14;

2. Recommends that the Commission on Human Rights adopt the following draft resolution:
'The Commission on Human Rights,

Recalling that, in accordance with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Covenants on human rights recognize that the ideal of free human beings enjoying freedom from fear and want can only be achieved if conditions are created whereby everyone may enjoy his economic, social and cultural rights, as well as his civil and political rights,

Deeply concerned by the fact that, despite the progress achieved by the international community in ensuring the effective enjoyment of human rights, extreme poverty continues to spread throughout the world, seriously affecting the most vulnerable and disadvantaged individuals, families and groups in all countries, who are thus hindered in the exercise of their human rights and their fundamental freedoms,

Recalling its resolution 1990/15 of 23 February 1990, in which it requested the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to carry out a specific study on extreme poverty and exclusion from society, and its resolution 1991/14 of 22 February 1991 in which it recommended that the Sub-Commission should give attention more particularly to the conditions in which the poorest themselves could convey their experience and so contribute to a better understanding of the harsh reality of their lives and its causes,

Also recalling the progress report by Mr. Danilo Türk on the realization of economic, social and cultural rights (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/19) and, in particular, the sections thereof devoted to extreme poverty,

Likewise recalling Sub-Commission decision 1990/119 whereby the Sub-Commission requested Mr. Eduardo Suescún Monroy to draw up the method and plan of work for the study on human rights and extreme poverty requested by the Commission in its resolution 1990/15,

Having taken cognizance with interest of the report of the Secretary-General entitled "Human rights and extreme poverty" (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/38 and Add.1), compiled on the basis of comments supplied by, inter alia, Governments, specialized agencies and United Nations bodies,

Having examined with interest the report by Mr. Suescún Monroy entitled "Method and plan of work for the study on human rights and extreme poverty" (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/18),

1. Approves the decision by the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to entrust Mr. Eduardo Suescún Monroy with the compilation of the study on human rights and extreme poverty;
2. Also approves the recommendations that, in compiling the study, Mr. Suescún Monroy should explore the effects of extreme poverty on the exercise of all human rights and all fundamental freedoms in the light of the harsh reality in which the poorest live, and give attention more particularly to the conditions in which the poorest themselves can convey their experience and ideas and so contribute to a better understanding of the harsh reality of their lives;

3. Requests the Secretary-General to provide Mr. Suescún Monroy with any assistance he may need to carry out his task;

4. Also requests the Secretary-General to continue to gather the views and comments of Governments, United Nations agencies and other international, governmental and non-governmental organizations on the harsh reality of extreme poverty and the action taken to combat and eliminate it;

5. Also requests Governments, international organizations and non-governmental organizations to provide every assistance in the compilation of this study and, in particular, to encourage cooperation by those working with the extremely poor;

6. Recommends that the Economic and Social Council adopt the following draft decision:

"The Economic and Social Council, taking note of Commission on Human Rights resolution ... dated ..., endorsing the decision by the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to entrust Mr. Eduardo Suescún Monroy with the compilation of the study on human rights and extreme poverty, approves the Commission's request to the Secretary-General to provide Mr. Eduardo Suescún Monroy with any assistance he may need to carry out his task."
X. COMMUNICATIONS CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS: REPORT OF THE WORKING GROUP ON COMMUNICATIONS ESTABLISHED UNDER SUB-COMMISSION RESOLUTION 2 (XXIV) IN ACCORDANCE WITH ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL RESOLUTION 1503 (XLVIII)

268. The Sub-Commission considered item 9 at its 29th and 30th meetings (closed parts), held on 26 and 27 August 1991.

269. By resolution 1503 (XLVIII) of 27 May 1970, the Economic and Social Council authorized the Sub-Commission to appoint a working group (Working Group on Communications) of not more than five of its members to meet annually for 10 working days, immediately before each session of the Sub-Commission, to consider all communications received by the Secretary-General under Council resolution 728 F (XXVIII) of 30 July 1959, including replies of Governments thereon, with a view to bringing to the attention of the Sub-Commission those communications which appeared to reveal a consistent pattern of gross and reliably attested violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms.

270. The procedure to be followed by the Working Group on Communications in deciding on the admissibility of communications was established by Sub-Commission resolution 1 (XXIV) of 13 August 1971, and the Working Group itself was set up in accordance with Sub-Commission resolution 2 (XXIV) of 16 August 1971.

271. The Sub-Commission had before it a confidential report on the work of the Working Group on Communications at its nineteenth session, held from 22 July to 2 August 1991 (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/R.1 and addenda), certain communications which had been kept pending before the Sub-Commission since its forty-second session in 1990, as well as all Government replies relevant to the material before it. The Sub-Commission noted with satisfaction the demonstrated willingness of Governments to reply to communications forwarded to them under Economic and Social Council resolution 728 F (XXVIII). It welcomed this continued display of international cooperation which was essential to the work of the bodies entrusted with the implementation of the procedure governed by Economic and Social Council resolution 1503 (XLVIII).

272. Mr. F. Yimer, on behalf of the Chairman/Rapporteur of the Working Group on Communications, Mr. T. Ramishvili, introduced the Working Group's report and drew attention, as appropriate, to the material which was pending before the Sub-Commission since its forty-second session.

273. Following the discussion which ensued, the Sub-Commission decided, pursuant to paragraph 5 of Economic and Social Council resolution 1503 (XLVIII), to refer to the Commission on Human Rights for consideration certain particular situations which appeared to reveal a consistent pattern of gross and reliably attested violations of human rights. The Sub-Commission also decided to defer action on certain communications to its forty-fourth session in 1992 and to take no action with regard to a communication which had been kept pending before it since its last session.
274. The Working Group on Communications informed the Sub-Commission in its report that it had had before it a number of extensively documented communications about alleged gross violations of the human rights of thousands of prisoners of war and civilian internees detained in military prisons and detention camps during the Second World War. United Nations intercession was being sought to obtain compensation for the surviving victims or the next of kin of those who had died in captivity or subsequent to their release, on account of the ill-treatment, torture and forced labour allegedly inflicted or imposed on them during the time of detention. The Working Group was of the view that, appalling as the events complained of were, the procedure governed by Economic and Social Council resolution 1503 (XLVIII) could not be applied as a reparation or relief mechanism in respect of claims of compensation for human suffering or other losses which had occurred during the Second World War. By a vote of 15 in favour, 3 against, with 1 abstention, the Sub-Commission decided to concur with that interpretation of the procedure.

275. For the text of the decision, see chapter II, section B, decision 1991/104.

276. At its 30th meeting (closed part), on 27 August 1991, the Sub-Commission adopted a confidential report, pursuant to paragraph 8 of Council resolution 1503 (XLVIII), by which it communicated to the Commission on Human Rights its decisions taken under paragraph 5 of that resolution.

277. At its 37th meeting, on 30 August 1991, the Sub-Commission decided on the composition of its Working Group on Communications that would meet prior to its forty-fourth session. For the composition of the Working Group, see chapter II, section B, decision 1991/119.

427. The draft resolution read as follows:

"The Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities,

Taking note of the report of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery on its sixteenth session (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/41),

Recalling that the Charter of the United Nations reaffirms faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person and in the equal rights of men and women,

Noting that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights affirms the principle of the inadmissibility of discrimination on grounds of sex and proclaims that everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth therein, without distinction of any kind, including distinction based on sex,

Bearing in mind that States parties to the International Covenants on Human Rights have the obligation to secure the equal right of men and women to enjoy all civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights,
Stressing that the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women was adopted to eliminate discrimination against women in all its forms and manifestations,

Concerned, however, that over 20 of the 107 States parties have filed more than 80 substantive reservations with respect to their obligations to implement the Convention,

Concerned also that certain reservations to the Convention, in particular those in relation to the adoption of policies and institutional measures to implement the terms of the Convention (art. 2), political and public life (art. 7), discrimination in the field of employment (art. 11), equality of men and women before the law (art. 15) and marriage and family relations (art. 16), might diminish the international legal norm and legitimize its violation,

Aware that the third meeting of the States parties adopted a resolution expressing concern that these reservations might not be compatible with the object and purpose of the Convention,

Bearing in mind that the frustration of the objectives of the Convention, because of such reservations, is contributing to the phenomenon of the exploitation of women,

Noting resolution 35/3 adopted by the Commission on the Status of Women at its thirty-fifth session, held from 27 February to 8 March 1991, in particular the invitation to the international community contained therein to mark in an appropriate manner the tenth anniversary of the entry into force of the Convention, and the encouragement of all States parties to make every effort to facilitate the implementation of the Convention at the national, regional and interregional levels,

Noting also that the Treaty Section of the Office of Legal Affairs of the United Nations Secretariat has given an opinion (See Official Records of the General Assembly, thirty-ninth session, Supplement No. 45 (A/39/45), vol. II, annex III) that neither the Secretary-General, as depositary, nor the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women has the power to determine the compatibility of reservations with the Convention,

Affirming the mandate of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities to prevent discrimination, to discourage State practices that legitimize discrimination and to reinforce the international legal norm of non-discrimination, Recommends to the Commission on Human Rights that it transmit a proposal to the Economic and Social Council that, after consulting the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women, it request the International Court of Justice to give an advisory opinion on the validity and the legal effect of reservations to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women."

428. Statements relating to the draft resolution were made by Mr. van Boven, Mr. Despouy, Ms. Ksentini, Ms. Palley and Ms. Warzazi.

430. For the text of the decision, see chapter II, section B, decision 1991/115.

431. At its 36th meeting, on 30 August 1991, the Sub-Commission decided on the composition of its Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery, which was to meet prior to its forty-fourth session.

432. For the composition of the Working Group, see chapter II, section B, decision 1990/119.

A. Requests contained in the resolution

1. By operative paragraph 3 of the draft resolution recommended for adoption by the Economic and Social Council, the Special Rapporteur, Mr. A. Khalifa, would be invited:

   (a) To continue to update the list of banks, transnational corporations and other organizations assisting the racist regime in South Africa, giving such details regarding enterprises listed as he may consider necessary and appropriate, including explanations of responses, if any, and to submit the updated report through the Sub-Commission to the Commission on Human Rights;

   (b) To use all available material from other United Nations organs, Member States, national liberation movements recognized by the Organization of African Unity, specialized agencies, other intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations and other relevant sources in order to indicate the volume, nature and adverse human consequences of the assistance given to the racist regime of South Africa;

   (c) To intensify direct contacts with the United Nations Centre on Transnational Corporations and the Centre against Apartheid with a view to consolidating mutual cooperation in updating his report.

2. By operative paragraphs 7 to 10 of the draft resolution, the Secretary-General would be requested, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 45/84 of 14 December 1990, to make available to the Special Rapporteur two economists to help him develop his analysis and documentation on specific cases of special importance; to give the Special Rapporteur all the assistance that he might require in the exercise of his mandate, with a view to intensifying direct contacts with the United Nations Centre on Transnational Corporations and the Centre Against Apartheid and to consolidating mutual cooperation in updating his report; to bring the updated report of the Special Rapporteur to the attention of Governments whose national financial institutions continue to deal with the regime of South Africa and to call upon them to provide the Special Rapporteur with any information or comments they might wish to present on the matter; and to get in touch with the Government of South Africa with a view to enabling the Special Rapporteur to visit South Africa on special mission for the purposes of the next updating of the report.

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

3. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 2: Elimination and prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities and vulnerable groups, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.19 to 35.26 of the proposed medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

4. The activity is included in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 1992-1993 under the following subprogramme of section 28 (Human rights):

Subprogramme 2. Elimination and prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities and vulnerable groups

1. Parliamentary services

(a) Parliamentary documentation

Preparation of two reports on an updated list of banks, transnational corporations and other organizations assisting South Africa.

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

5. Subject to the response of the Government of South Africa to the request of the Secretary-General that the Special Rapporteur undertake a visit to South Africa (General Assembly resolution 45/84 of 14 December 1990 and Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/26 of 31 May 1991), it is envisaged that the Special Rapporteur will travel from Cairo via Geneva to South Africa for a period of 10 working days, accompanied by a staff member of the Centre for Human Rights, in the early part of 1992, within the perspective of the next update of his report.

6. It is envisaged that the Special Rapporteur will travel from Cairo to New York for a period of five working days in 1992 in order to contact the Centre on Transnational Corporations and the Centre Against Apartheid. Later in 1992 the Special Rapporteur will travel from Cairo to Geneva for five working days for consultations at the Centre for Human Rights. As requested in paragraph 7 of the draft resolution, the services of two economists to help him develop his analysis and documentation on specific cases of special importance would be required. By General Assembly resolution 45/84 and Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/26, the Special Rapporteur was requested to continue to update the list of banks, transnational corporations and other organizations assisting the racist regime of South Africa.

D. Modifications required in the programme of work

7. No modification is required in the proposed programme of work for 1992-1993, since this activity appears under subprogramme 2.

Resolution 1991/14. The right to a fair trial

A. Requests contained in the resolution

1. By operative paragraphs 2 and 3 of the draft resolution recommended for adoption by the Commission on Human Rights, the Commission would endorse the request of the Sub-Commission to Mr. Stanislav Chernichenko and Mr. William Treat to continue the preparation of their study on the right to a fair trial: current recognition and measures necessary for its strengthening, and would request the Secretary-General to provide the two Special Rapporteurs with all the assistance they may require.
B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

2. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 4: Research, studies and standard-setting, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.38 to 35.43 of the proposed medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

3. The activity is included in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 1992-1993 under the following subprogramme of section 28 (Human rights):

Subprogramme 4. Research, studies and standard-setting

1. Parliamentary services
   (a) Parliamentary documentation
   Preparation of a report on administration of justice aimed at elaborating a model text for national legislation

2. Published material
   (b) Technical publication
   The right to a fair trial

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. In carrying out their mandate, the Special Rapporteurs propose to follow a basic plan as outlined in paragraphs 108 to 117 of their second report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/29). This plan represents a tentative outline. The Special Rapporteurs may, therefore, require additional resources in the implementation of their mandate, although every effort will be made to keep within the parameters set out in the present document. The programme budget implications given here relate to the preparation of the third report, due for submission to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session in 1992, as well as to the fourth and fifth reports. For the latter, it should be noted that the Sub-Commission's decision to extend the mandate of the Special Rapporteurs until 1994 will have to be endorsed by the Commission on Human Rights and by the Economic and Social Council. In this regard, reference is made to Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/28 of 31 May 1991, in which it requested the two Special Rapporteurs to draft a questionnaire on the right to a fair trial and to produce a preliminary report submission to the Commission on Human Rights at its forty-eighth session in 1992. The following activities are envisaged:
(a) The study as described in the second report will necessitate extensive research, as well as the processing of information obtained in response to the questionnaire referred to in the report and the draft resolution. As stated in Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/28, this study is intended to develop into a model code of international standards containing basic guarantees necessary for a fair trial. This is anticipated to entail the provision of adequate computerized facilities, including access to specialized databanks, and would also require the engagement of a specialist in computerized research technology, who would be hired for approximately six months in 1992, in 1993 and in 1994 to assist the Centre for Human Rights in providing the research support required;

(b) It is further envisaged that both Special Rapporteurs would travel to Vienna in March 1992 to consult with officials of the Centre for Social Development and Humanitarian Affairs and the Committee on Crime Prevention and Control for a period of five working days. For 1993, a similar trip is foreseen for further consultations;

(c) Consultations by the Special Rapporteurs at the Centre for Human Rights at Geneva are estimated to require a period of five working days in 1992, in 1993 and in 1994.

D. Modifications required in the programme of work

5. No modification is required in the proposed programme of work for 1992-1993, since this activity appears under subprogramme 4.

E. Additional requirements at full cost

6. The estimated cost of the programme of work is itemized as follows:

7. The relevant costs to be financed under section 28 (Human rights) are estimated at $46,900 for 1992, $49,300 for 1993 and $44,000 for 1994.

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

2. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 4: Research, studies and standard-setting, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.38 to 35.43 of the medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).
Subprogramme 4. Research, studies and standard-setting

2. Published material

List of countries that proclaim, extend or terminate a state of emergency

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. In order to carry out the requests contained in the draft resolution, the following activities are envisaged. These activities are based on a plan that the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow in carrying out his mandate. This plan continues with the methodology used thus far by the Special Rapporteur, as described in chapter IV of his fourth report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/28):

(a) The resolution invites the Special Rapporteur to continue his work and requests the Secretary-General to give him all necessary assistance. As stated in his third report (chapter III. Remarks and observations), the Special Rapporteur has experienced problems in carrying out his mandate given the volume of work involved and the anticipated considerable increase in the flow of information requiring analysis. The Special Rapporteur would therefore require the organization of the voluminous information he receives through the application of computer technology, which will require additional resources. It is estimated that to support the Special Rapporteur, specialized assistance would be required for approximately nine months, in addition to secretarial assistance for the same period. In this regard, it should be noted that by decision 1991/262, the Economic and Social Council endorsed Sub-Commission resolution 1990/19 in which the Special Rapporteur was requested to continue to update the list on states of emergency, including draft standard provisions on emergency situations;

(b) In view of the request that the Special Rapporteur continue and complete work on the guidelines for the development of legislation on states of emergency, he will also require to be provided with specialized professional support in the form of an expert in international and comparative law and practice;

(c) By paragraph 10, the Special Rapporteur is encouraged to undertake contacts with appropriate technical institutions. It is envisaged that such consultations will take place early in 1992 for a period of three working days either in Geneva or in another European city with a view to discussing the preparation of a meeting of experts in the autumn of 1992 to discuss the possible establishment of a more permanent database on states of emergency;

(d) Consultations by the Special Rapporteur at the Centre for Human Rights at Geneva are estimated to require a period of five working days in 1991 (subject to the availability of funds) to prepare for the submission of his fourth report to the Commission on Human Rights and a further 10 working days in May/June 1992.
D. Modifications required in the programme of work

5. No modification is required in the proposed programme of work for 1992-1993, since this activity appears under subprogramme 4.

E. Additional requirements at full cost

6. The estimated cost of the programme of work is itemized as follows:

A. Requests contained in the resolution

1. By paragraphs 5 to 9 of the resolution the Sub-Commission requested the Secretary-General to prepare, with the cooperation of the Special Rapporteur, Mr. Asbjørn Eide, the technical meeting of experts on minorities, provided for in Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/62, with a view to it taking place in 1992; authorized the Special Rapporteur to visit three States, in different continents, in which minorities problems occur and to communicate directly with Governments and minorities in order to gain first-hand information; requested the Special Rapporteur, in updating his report, to take into consideration the views expressed and comments made by the members of the Sub-Commission and the replies submitted by Governments, specialized agencies and intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations; also requested the Special Rapporteur to submit an updated report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session and his final report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fifth session in 1993; and requested the Secretary-General to give the Special Rapporteur all the assistance he may require to enable him to carry out his work successfully.

4. In order to carry out the requests contained in the draft resolution, the following activities are envisaged. These activities are based on a plan that the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow in carrying out his mandate. This plan represents a tentative outline; the Special Rapporteur may therefore require additional resources in the implementation of his mandate, although every effort will be made to keep within the parameters set out in this document.

(a) Information will have to be compiled on national arrangements for minorities as described in replies to a questionnaire that will be sent by the Special Rapporteur to those Governments and other organizations which have not yet replied to the earlier questionnaire, as contained in States parties reports to treaty-monitoring bodies and resulting from research conducted in accordance with the outline of the Special Rapporteur;

(b) The compilation of information is anticipated to require the services of a specialist in the field of minority rights for an estimated duration of three months in 1992 and three months in 1993;

(c) Contacts with Governments are to be established by the Special Rapporteur which, it is anticipated, will necessitate visits to an estimated three countries (in Africa, Asia and North America) to seek further views and information from Governments;

By the draft decision recommended for adoption by the Commission on Human Rights, the Sub-Commission would recommend that (a) the subject of harmful traditional practices affecting the health of women and children be maintained on the agenda of the Sub-Commission in so far as they constitute violations of human rights within the meaning of the relevant provisions of the International Bill of Human Rights and many other relevant international conventions, in particular the Convention on the Rights of the Child; (b) the mandate of the Special Rapporteur, Ms. H.E. Warzazi, be extended for two years so as to enable her to present a plan of action for the elimination of harmful traditional practices affecting the health of women and children and a report on the regional seminar which will take place in Asia to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fifth session; (c) the Centre for Human Rights provide a full-time Professional staff member to follow up the question of traditional practices affecting the health of women and children, and to liaise with Governments, United Nations agencies and regional commissions, non-governmental organizations and other concerned institutions, with special emphasis on gathering data from the many organizations currently working to eliminate harmful traditional practices; (d) the Centre for Human Rights provide all the assistance that the Special Rapporteur might require in the exercise of her mandate.

3. The activity is included in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 1992-1993 under the following subprogramme of section 28 (Human rights):

   Subprogramme 2. Elimination and prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities and vulnerable groups

   1. Parliamentary services

      (a) Parliamentary documentation

      Study on recent developments with regard to traditional practices affecting the health of women and children (annual)
C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. It is envisaged that the Special Rapporteur will travel to Geneva for a period of five working days each time in 1992 and in 1993, to hold consultations at the Centre for Human Rights and to organize and plan her work in relation to her mandate. Consideration would be given to organizing a regional seminar on traditional practices affecting the health of women and children in Asia, early in 1992, under the Centre's programme of advisory services in the field of human rights, as called for by decision 1990/109 of 7 March 1990 of the Commission on Human Rights.

5. Twelve work-months of temporary assistance at the P-3 level will be required to assist the Special Rapporteur and to liaise with Governments, United Nations agencies and regional commissions, non-governmental organizations and other concerned institutions, with special emphasis on data-gathering.

D. Modifications required in the programme of work

6. No modification is required in the proposed programme of work for 1992-1993, since this activity appears under subprogramme 2.

Resolution 1991/24. Human rights and the environment

A. Requests contained in the draft resolution

1. By paragraphs 2 and 3 of the resolution, the Sub-Commission requested the Special Rapporteur, Ms. F.Z. Ksentini, to prepare for the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session a progress report on human rights and the environment, and reiterated the recommendation contained in Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/44 that Ms. Ksentini be invited to participate as an observer at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, to be held in Brazil in 1992. By paragraph 6, the Sub-Commission requested the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteur with all the assistance she might require for the preparation of her study, and the necessary assistance to compile and analyse the information and documents collected.

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

2. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 4: Research, studies and standard-setting, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.38 to 35.43 of the medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

Subprogramme 4. Research, studies and standard-setting

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

3. In carrying out her mandate, the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow the methodology described in her note prepared pursuant to Sub-Commission resolution 1989/108 (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/12). This plan represents a tentative outline. The Special Rapporteur may, therefore, require additional resources in the implementation of her mandate, although every effort will be made to keep within the parameters set out in the present document. The Special Rapporteur is requested to present a progress report to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session in 1992. It should be noted that, by decision 1991/244, the Economic and Social Council approved the appointment of Ms. Ksentini as Special Rapporteur to prepare a study on human rights and the environment. The following activities are envisaged:

(a) The nature of the subject of the study will require the provision of specialized knowledge combining, in particular, international law and environmental questions. This would require the engagement of such a specialist for a duration of approximately three months to assist the Centre for Human Rights in providing the research support required;
(b) The Special Rapporteur is authorized to participate as an observer at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, due to take place in Brazil in 1992, provision for which has already been made in the programme budget implications of resolution 1991/44 of the Commission on Human Rights;

(c) Consultations by the Special Rapporteur at the Centre for Human Rights at Geneva are estimated to require a period of five working days in 1992.

D. Modifications required in the programme of work

4. No modification is required in the proposed programme of work for 1992-1993, since this activity appears under subprogramme 4.

E. Additional requirements at full cost

5. The estimated cost of the programme of work is itemized as follows:

Resolution 1991/25. The right to restitution, compensation and rehabilitation for victims of gross violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms

A. Requests contained in the draft resolution

1. By paragraphs 2 and 3 of the resolution, the Sub-Commission requested the Special Rapporteur, Mr. T. van Boven, to continue his study, taking into account comments made in the discussion on the preliminary and progress reports at the forty-third session, as well as relevant developments in the area of crime prevention and control; to submit at the forty-fourth session a further progress report; and to prepare a final report to be presented at the forty-fifth session in 1993. The Sub-Commission also requested the Secretary-General to provide all the assistance required by the Special Rapporteur to carry out his study.

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

2. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 4: Research, studies and standard-setting, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.38 to 35.43 of the medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

3. The activity is included in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 1992-1993 under the following subprogramme of section 28 (Human rights):

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. In carrying out his mandate, the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow the plan of study referred to in paragraphs 6 and 7 of his preliminary report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/10). This plan represents a tentative outline. The Special Rapporteur may, therefore, require additional resources in the implementation of his mandate, although every effort will be made to keep within the parameters set out in the present document. In paragraph 2 of the progress report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/7) the Special Rapporteur indicated that more work should be done to give a complete overview of the matter of the right to restitution, compensation and rehabilitation for victims of gross violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms.

   (a) The outline of the study, as contained in the annex to the preliminary report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/10), will necessitate the provision of specialized knowledge combining, in particular, international law, penal law, humanitarian law and constitutional law. It is envisaged to engage the services of such a specialist for a duration of approximately three months to assist the Centre for Human Rights in providing the research support required;

   (b) Since no consultations took place during 1991-1992, the Special Rapporteur will need to undertake consultations at the Centre for Social Development and Humanitarian Affairs at Vienna. It is anticipated that this will require a visit to Vienna for an estimated duration of four working days in 1992;
(c) Consultations by the Special Rapporteur at the Centre for Human Rights at Geneva are estimated to be required for a period of five working days both in 1992 and 1993.

   (b) Prepare a note containing an outline of a possible set of basic policy guidelines on structural adjustment, taking into account the relevant parts of the second progress report of the Special Rapporteur;

   2. Published material

      (b) Technical publications

      Study on the realization of economic, social and cultural rights

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

5. In carrying out his mandate, the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow the plan suggested in his second progress report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/17), in particular paragraphs 229 and 230. This represents a tentative outline. The Special Rapporteur may, therefore, require additional resources in the implementation of his mandate, although every effort will be made to keep within the parameters set out in this document.
(a) The Special Rapporteur has been requested to hold further consultations with the specialized agencies of the United Nations and with international financial institutions in order to prepare a consolidated set of conclusions and recommendations to be included in his final report.    (b) To ensure that all meetings of the Working Group at its tenth and future sessions are provided with interpretation and documentation in both English and Spanish;

   (c) To organize the regional training course in Latin America on the United Nations, human rights and indigenous peoples, as a matter of the highest priority and in accordance with paragraph 8 (d) of Sub-Commission resolution 1990/26, as approved by the Commission on Human Rights in its resolution 1991/59;

   (d) To give all necessary assistance to the Working Group in discharging its tasks, including more effective dissemination of information about its activities to indigenous peoples in every country in order to encourage their wider participation.

2. By paragraph 8 of the resolution, the Sub-Commission recommended that the Chairman-Rapporteur of the Working Group, Ms. E.-I. Daes, be entrusted with the task of further elaborating the paragraphs of the draft declaration which were agreed upon by the members of the Working Group at first reading, taking into account the relevant written observations received pursuant to paragraph 7 (a) of the resolution, and to facilitate further progress on standard-setting at the tenth session of the Working Group. The Sub-Commission also requested the Secretary-General to provide Ms. Daes with all the assistance she might require for the completion of this task.

3. By paragraph 11 of the resolution, the Sub-Commission authorized Ms. Daes to attend the Conference on the Human Dimension in Moscow, in order to draw the attention of States participating in the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE) to the activities of the Working Group, in particular the recommendation that they consider the issue of recognition and protection of the rights of indigenous peoples.
4. By paragraph 14 of the resolution, the Sub-Commission recommended the following draft decision to the Commission on Human Rights for adoption:

"The Commission on Human Rights, noting resolution 1991/30 of 29 August 1991 of the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities, decides to recommend to the Economic and Social Council that the Working Group on Indigenous Populations be authorized to meet for 10 working days prior to the forty-fourth session of the Sub-Commission for the purpose of continuing the substantial progress already made towards the completion of a draft declaration on the rights of indigenous peoples, in consultation with Governments and organizations of indigenous peoples, and to recommend also that the reports of the tenth and future sessions of the Working Group be issued as sales publications and given the widest possible distribution."

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

5. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 2: Elimination and prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities and vulnerable groups, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.19 to 35.26 of the medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

6. The activity is included in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 1992-1993 under the following subprogramme of section 28 (Human rights):

Subprogramme 2. Elimination and prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities and vulnerable groups

Activities aimed at the protection of indigenous populations

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

7. The resolution is based on the progress made on the text of the draft universal declaration on the rights of indigenous peoples during the ninth session of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations.

8. In order to carry out the requests contained in the resolution, the following activities are envisaged. These activities are based on a basic plan that the Chairman-Rapporteur of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations proposes to follow in carrying out her mandate, in particular in view of the current method of work of the Working Group, based on continued participation of and dialogue between representatives of indigenous peoples, Governments and members of the Working Group. Reference is made, in this connection, to the recommendations contained in the report of the Working Group on Indigenous Populations on its ninth session. Programme budget implications given in the present document relate to activities (b), (c), (d) and (e) of the plan as presented below:

(a) Copies of the Working Group's report will be transmitted to Governments, indigenous peoples, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations;

It is envisaged that the Chairman-Rapporteur will travel to Geneva for one week of consultations with the Centre for Human Rights;

(c) The Commission on Human Rights is requested to recommend at its forty-eighth session that the Economic and Social Council authorize the Working Group on Indigenous Populations to meet for five extra working days prior to the forty-fourth session of the Sub-Commission, with full interpretation and documentation facilities in the two working languages of the Working Group, English and Spanish. Facilities in Russian are also requested because of the expected participation of a delegation from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics;

(d) The Commission on Human Rights is further requested to recommend that the reports of the Working Group on its tenth and future sessions be issued as sales publications and given the widest possible distribution. This would imply a standard run of 10,000 copies in English and Spanish, and slightly fewer in Russian;

(e) The Chairman-Rapporteur will travel to Moscow for the Conference on the Human Dimension for five working days in September/October 1991 in order to draw the participants' attention to the activities of the Working Group, in particular to the recommendation of the Working Group that CSCE consider the issue of recognizing and protecting the rights of indigenous peoples;

(f) In accordance with Sub-Commission resolution 1990/26 and Commission on Human Rights resolution 1991/59, the Secretary-General is requested to organize a regional training course on the United Nations, human rights and indigenous peoples in Latin America, as a matter of the highest priority. The participation of approximately 35 persons is envisaged at this training course, the programme budget implications of which have already been presented.

Programme of action to combat contemporary forms of slavery

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. The resolution is based on the progress made by the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery at its sixteenth session. In this regard, reference is made to paragraphs 117 to 170 of the report of the Working Group (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/41).

5. In order to carry out the requests contained in the draft resolution, the following activities are envisaged. They are based on a plan that the Chairman—Rapporteur of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery proposes to follow, which assumes the continued participation of and dialogue between Governments, non-governmental organizations and members of the Working Group:

(a) The Secretary-General is requested to reassign to the Working Group a full-time Professional staff member of the Centre for Human Rights to work on a permanent basis to ensure continuity and close coordination within and outside the Centre for Human Rights on issues relating to contemporary forms of slavery. This would largely serve the purpose of making the Centre the focal point within the United Nations for the suppression of contemporary forms of slavery. In this regard, reference is made to paragraph 5 of Economic and Social Council resolution 1991/35 of 31 May 1991, in which a similar request was made;

(b) The Secretary-General is further requested to examine the possibility of organizing the sessions of the Working Group on Contemporary Forms of Slavery for eight working days during the months of April or May. This would involve services for three more working days and would require additional travel and subsistence costs for the five members of the Working Group;

(c) Finally, the Secretary-General is requested to send a representative of the Centre for Human Rights to a Council of Europe seminar on trafficking in persons and prostitution to be held in Strasbourg from 24 to 27 September 1991 and to report on the results of this seminar to the Working Group at its seventeenth session.

D. Modifications required in the programme of work

6. No modification is required in the proposed programme of work for 1992-1993, since this activity appears under subprogramme 2.

E. Additional requirements at full cost

Resolution 1991/35. Independence and impartiality of the judiciary, jurors and assessors and the independence of lawyers

A. Requests contained in the draft resolution

1. By paragraph 5 of the resolution, the Sub-Commission decided to entrust the Special Rapporteur, Mr. L. Joinet, with the preparation of a report to bring to the attention of the Sub-Commission information on practices and measures which have served to strengthen or to weaken the independence of the judiciary. It also requested the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteur with all the assistance necessary for the completion of this task.

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

2. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 4: Research, studies and standard-setting, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.38 to 35.43 of the medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

2. Published material

(b) Technical publication

Strengthening the independence of the judiciary and the protection of practising lawyers

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. In order to carry out the requests contained in the draft resolution, the following activities are envisaged. These activities are based on a plan that the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow in carrying out his mandate. This plan represents a tentative outline; the Special Rapporteur may therefore require additional resources in the implementation of his mandate, although every effort will be made to keep within the parameters set out in this document. It should be noted that by its decision 1991/241, the Economic and Social Council approved the appointment of Mr. Joinet to prepare a report on the independence and impartiality of the judiciary and the request to the Secretary-General that he be given all the assistance necessary for the completion of his task.

(a) The study as described in Mr. Joinet's working paper (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1990/35) will necessitate extensive research, as well as the processing of information obtained from Governments, international organizations and non-governmental organizations, including professional associations of judges and lawyers, in response to the resolution. For this purpose the assistance of a temporary Professional assistant is required for a period of four months as well as that of a General Service staff member for the same period;

(b) Guidelines and criteria for the provision of the advisory services and technical assistance of the United Nations should be set out as recommended in paragraphs 303 to 311 of Mr. Joinet's report (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/30);

(c) It is envisaged to hold consultations with United Nations bodies, especially the Crime Prevention and Treatment of Offenders Branch at Vienna, in order to coordinate the activities in the field of administration of justice within the United Nations system in accordance with General Assembly resolution 45/166 of 18 December 1990;

(d) Consultations by the Special Rapporteur at the Centre for Human Rights in Geneva will be required for a period of five working days in 1991 (previously authorized) and in 1992.

Decision 1991/111. Study on treaties, agreements and other constructive arrangements between States and indigenous populations

A. Requests contained in the draft decision

1. By decision 1991/111, the Sub-Commission requested the Special Rapporteur, Mr. M. Alfonso Martínez, to submit a progress report on his study to the Working Group on Indigenous Populations at its tenth session and to the Sub-Commission at its forty-fourth session. It also requested the Secretary-General to provide the Special Rapporteur with all the necessary assistance to allow him to carry out his work, in particular to provide for a study trip to the Archivo de Indias in Seville.

B. Relationship of requests to programme of work

2. The activities referred to above fall under major programme VII: Human rights, fundamental freedoms and humanitarian affairs, programme 35: Promotion and protection of human rights, subprogramme 2: Elimination and prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities and vulnerable groups, the objectives of and the strategy for which are described in paragraphs 35.19 to 35.26 of the proposed medium-term plan for the period 1992-1997 (A/45/6).

C. Activities by which the requests would be implemented

4. The decision is based on the preliminary report of the Special Rapporteur on treaties, agreements and other constructive arrangements between States and indigenous peoples (E/CN.4/Sub.2/1991/33), in particular, section IV thereof.

5. In order to carry out the requests contained in the draft decision, the following activities are envisaged. These activities are based on a basic plan that the Special Rapporteur proposes to follow in carrying out his mandate. The programme budget implications given in the present document relate to activities (a), (b) and (c) of the plan, presented below:

(a) It is envisaged that the Special Rapporteur will travel for a second time to the Archivo de Indias in Seville, during the first quarter of 1992 for a period of five working days, to gather further basic data for the study which the Special Rapporteur regards as crucial for the overall understanding of the various issues stemming from his mandate. The Special Rapporteur foresees that in the coming year considerable work will have to be done in order to submit a comprehensive, thorough progress report. This calls for professional assistance and rapid and secure communications between the Centre for Human Rights and the Special Rapporteur;

(b) The Special Rapporteur needs specialized research assistance for six months in 1992 to collect, review and analyse treaties and similar arrangements relating to indigenous populations;

(c) It is also envisaged that the Special Rapporteur will visit the Centre for Human Rights for consultations on two occasions, in the last quarter of 1991 (already foreseen) and in the second quarter of 1992, for a period of five working days each time.
