RESOLUTIONS

1921 (LVIII). Prevention of disability and rehabilitation of disabled persons

The Economic and Social Council,

Recalling its resolutions 309 E (XI) of 13 July 1950 entitled “Social rehabilitation of the physically handicapped” and 1086 K (XXXIX) of 30 July 1965 entitled “Rehabilitation of the disabled”, and General Assembly resolution 2856 (XXVI) of 20 December 1971 entitled “Declaration on the Rights of Mentally Retarded Persons”;

Mindful of the pledge of Member States under the Charter of the United Nations to take joint and separate action in co-operation with the Organization to promote higher standards of living, full employment and conditions of economic and social progress and development,

Aware that, because of physical and mental disabilities and of society’s reactions to them, hundreds of millions of persons are prevented from enjoying fully the rights and opportunities of the communities in which they live,

Noting that progress in the prevention of disability and in the development of rehabilitation services to assist disabled persons in overcoming or reducing the effects of disability has been achieved thanks to the efforts of Governments and of voluntary organizations in various countries and to technical and other assistance provided by the United Nations organizations, by Governments on a bilateral basis and by non-governmental organizations, but that such progress has not been sufficient to prevent disabilities and reduce significantly the incidence of disability or to provide effective aid to more than a small proportion of the disabled persons in the world,

Believing that the problem of disability is an appreciable component of the economic and social condition of every country and, consequently, that programmes to prevent disability and to rehabilitate the disabled are an essential part of comprehensive plans for economic and social development, responsibility for which must be assumed by Governments working, as appropriate, with non-governmental organizations,

1. Draws the attention of Governments to the increasing magnitude of the problem of disability and disabled persons throughout the world;

2. Requests Governments:

   (a) To take progressively legislative measures to facilitate the prompt identification and prevention of disability and the effective organization of services for disabled persons;

   (b) To identify and evaluate existing services, including those provided by non-governmental organizations;

"Taking note with appreciation of the note by the Secretary-General on the feasibility of voluntary contributions in support of United Nations youth programmes,\(^{59}\)

"Aware of the increasing difficulties with which millions of youth in many parts of the world are faced as they seek to take constructive roles in the development of their societies,

"Believing that the United Nations must intensify its efforts to implement practical programmes to assist young people to take such roles, including the means of financing such programmes,

"Acknowledging the role in the achievement of national and international development goals that has been entrusted to the United Nations Volunteers programme, and the potential of that programme for the advancement of youth's role in development,

"1. Recommends that the General Assembly at its thirtieth session approve the recommendation of the Secretary-General\(^{59}\) that the United Nations Volunteers programme be designated as the principal operational unit of the United Nations for the execution of youth programmes, especially of pilot projects and training programmes for youth workers, such projects and programmes to be undertaken only after consultation with the Governments of the countries concerned;

"2. Recommends further that the General Assembly at its thirtieth session approve the expansion of the terms of reference of the Special Voluntary Fund for the United Nations Volunteers to include the receipt of additional contributions for the purposes described in the preceding paragraph;

"3. Appeals to Governments and other potential sources for contributions to the Special Voluntary Fund, to be used to help finance United Nations youth programmes sponsored by the United Nations Volunteers programme;
